Belfry Theater Man to Study in England

John Vaughan, one of the two directors at the Belfry theater this season, has been notified that he is to receive a Fullbright grant and with Mrs. Vaughan will sail for England Wednesday for a year of study.

The Fullbright grants, offered by the state department this year for the first time, are awarded in all fields of academic study on the basis of an outline of proposed study suggested by the applicant and on his academic standing. Vaughan will study the methods of production and the operational procedures of the British repertory companies and work out a pattern for the establishment of similar companies in this country.

EARL WILSON

It Happened Last Night

(By Earl Wilson)

Now that I'm back home, I want to pass on to you. P. R. (Precious Reader) some smiles I collected in Europe.

The boss of Fitzroy's famous pub in London has this sign over his bar:

If I rest, I rust;
If I trust, I bust.
No rest, no rust,
No trust, no bust.

A COP IN VENICE knew less about art than me.

Art-lovers there planned a great exhibit of the works of Giovanni Bellini, famous 15th Century painter, and went for a police permit a few months ago.

The cop asked, "Who's putting on this exhibit?"

"We members of the committee," said the chairman.

"I'm sorry," said the cop sternly, brandishing the book of regulations. "If you're showing Bellini's paintings, he'll have to come for the permit himself!"

In Germany several WACS were anxious to return to America immediately.

They said the German girls are so anxious to get married to Americans — and hence so loose with their charms—that a WAC doesn't stand a chance with a GI!

* * *

FLYING OVER GERMANY on the airlift, an American flier looked down at a puny German forest and said:

"They call them forests, but where I come from—Texas—we'd call 'em parks."

* * *

THE SWISS LOVE FREEDOM and enjoy twitting the Germans about controlling every individual's life.

As the Swiss tell it:

"With the Germans, when something is not absolutely forbidden — then it's obligatory."

* * *

THE ENGLISH STATE-SUPPORTED medical plan brought out the story about a man going to a health center and asking for some twilight sleep for his toothache.

"But that's only for labor," said the doctor on duty.

"I knew you'd play favorites giving it out," bitterly protested the man, "but I certainly thought you'd save a little bit for us Tories!"

IN ROME, I met Stella Adler the actress, who lives across 54th st. from me, and we talked of the Italian siesta, of the easy, carefree life.

And of how Americans in Italy rail at the Italians for not leading our frantic, speed-up type of life.

"Italians are so carefree—I'll bet there's not a psychiatrist in Rome," I suggested.

"Oh, yes, there are two," said Miss Adler.

"Whatever do they do?" I asked.

"They," she said, "treat the Americans."
