DIAL LITES—TONIGHT

6:00—KNX—Lucille Ball and her husband, Desi Arnaz, will team up in "The Red-headed Woman," the tense drama presented on "Suspense" tonight. Miss Ball plays the part of an embittered stenographer who absconds with the company pay roll . . . in her flight she gets mixed up with a bank robber who engages her in a wild battle for the possession of a gun.

7:00—KFI—"The Chesterfield Star of the Week" will be a Hollywood actor who is appearing in a Broadway hit. Perry Como joins his guest to play a few scenes from the play and then will call for identification of the star.

7:30—KFI—The "Dragnet" drama tonight depicts the capture of a criminal who cons elderly ladies out of their money by pretending romantic interest in them.

9:00—KECA—Vice President Alben W. Barkley will be the guest of honor and speak in behalf of the National Kid's Day Foundation. In conjunction with the Kiwanis they will endeavor to focus attention on the accomplishments of youth in this country and Canada. Other high lights of the star-studded broadcast will be the appearance of Bob Hope, Bing Crosby, Edgar Bergen, Walter Winchell and other luminaries who donate their talents to this worthy cause.

9:30—KHJ—"Peter Salem's" suspicions are aroused when a supposedly murdered man turns up alive, and he follows through to solve the "Affair of the Left-handed Limp."

Women's Conservative Play Would Win This Contract

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
Written for NEA Service

MOST men will tell you that women do not play bridge as well as men do. This week I am giving you some hands that I have seen women play and you can judge for yourself.

Mrs. Lulu Horr has been teaching bridge at the Allerton Hotel, Cleveland, for many years. She probably has introduced more people into tournament bridge than any other person in the country. She told me recently that one of the most difficult things to teach in bridge is the rule about finessing and she brought out an interesting point. "When you teach a man how to take a finesse in bridge," said Lulu, "he loves it because it is a gamble. But women generally do not like to gamble. They look around for a safer way to make an investment."

Today's hand is one of her lesson hands. It is her theory most men would lose it because they would take the spade finesse, but most women, being conservative, would make the contract.

The opening lead of the deuce of spades should be won by South with the ace when East puts on the nine spot. Now South should take two rounds of trumps and then lead a diamond. It does not make much difference who wins this trick, but let us say that East wins it with the ace of diamonds.

North: ♠ K J 6 4 ♥ A 10 9 3 2 ♦ Q ♣ 6 5 3
West: ♠ 2 ♥ 7 5 ♦ K 10 9 8 7 5 3 ♣ K J 9
East: ♠ Q 10 9 7 5 ♥ 4 ♦ A 6 4 ♣ Q 8 7 4
South: ♠ A 8 3 ♥ K Q J 8 6 ♦ J 2 ♣ A 10 2
Dealer: South
Tournament—Neither vul

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	2 ♦	4 ♥	Pass

Opening—♠ 2

He should shift to a club and South should go right up with the ace. South has lost a diamond. He still has two clubs and a spade loser. Now, as Mrs. Horr said, a man would take the spade finesse.

The correct play is to ruff out the diamond and then lead a club. All East or West can do is to cash two club tricks. West does not have another spade. If East wins the last club trick, he will have to lead into the king-jack of spades, or one of them will have to lead a diamond, in which case South discards, the losing spade and ruffs in dummy.

Goldberg Family to Mark 20 Years on Radio Friday

NEW YORK, Nov. 16. (AP) The Goldbergs, the radio program that television brought back, will celebrate its 20th anniversary in two sections, on the radio Friday night and on television the following Monday, both CBS.

This drama of a New York family began as a serial Nov. 28, 1929. After 17 years on various networks, it switched to the Broadway stage for about a year's run.

The radio lapse continued until last Jan. 17, when a half-hour television version was tried with so much success that when the new season opened in September the sponsor put it back on radio, too. The same script is used in both versions, with necessary variations.

Gertrude Berg, creator and author, also plays the lead role of Molly. She has done about 3000 performances and has turned out 6,000,000 words of dialogue.

Besides Mrs. Berg, the principal members of the present cast are Philip Loeb as the husband, Eli Muntz as Uncle David, Larry Robinson as Sammy and Arlene McQuad as Rosie.

When it presents its 500th broadcast next Monday night, the telephone "hour" of NBC will be using approximately the same orchestra that it started out with in April, 1940. In that time there has been only about 7 per cent change in the musicians' staff under Conductor Don Voorhees.

Likewise there has been no basic shift in the format of the program, a semiclassical presentation with guest soloists, either vocal or instrumental. Next week's visitor will be tenor Ferruccio Tagliavini making his 11th appearance in less than two years.

MR. AL THINKOVER

Aw, Al, stop thinking it over. You've been thinking it over for 40 years and you'll never stop unless you decide to do some acting, too. Besides, if you have a TV set, it will be easier to think—more fun.
