* * *

Between now and Easter, Madison will have a busy period of music and drama. Among the attractions will be Blackfriars Guild, Wisconsin Players, Madison Civic Symphony orchestra, University of Wisconsin Concert band, and Madison Theater Guild.

West high school pupils gave the first of two performances of "Trial by Jury" and scenes from "Harriet" in the school auditorium Friday night. The second will be at 8 tonight.

The cast of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta consists of John Vincent, Frank Wendt, Dave Moran, Al Gay, Eleanor O'Rourke, Dick Wendt, and Dick Cyr, besides jurors, bridesmaids, and court room spectators. Marion G. Huxtable is director. Esther Lerdahl and Ann Calhoun are accompanists.

Mrs. Ruth McCarty directs the "Harriet" scenes, in which these pupils appear: Mary Ellen Sylvester, Barbara Botham, Bill Siemesing, Janet Narum, Bunny and Mimi Mackin, Frank Quartuccio, Tom Laudon, Leon Pettersen, Carol Trenk, Eloise Barton, and Dave Hoeveler.

The Madison Chapter of Blackfriars Guild will present "Lady of Fatima" in Edgewood auditorium at 8 tonight and at 2:30 and 8 p. m. Sunday. It has been produced in Watertown and Ft. Atkinson and will be in Platteville on Apr. 2 and in Richland Center on Apr. 16.

Except for a group of children, the cast remains the same for each performance. Patsy Brinkman, Janet Elskamp, and Bernard Stein will appear tonight and Sunday night, while Katherine Dottle, Joellyn Zimmerman, and William Straub, Jr., will be in the play Sunday afternoon.

Phi Mu Alpha-Sinfonia, professional music fraternity at the university, will give its second annual concert of American music at 8 p.m. Sunday in Music hall auditorium.

The final concert in the Schoenberg series will be offered at 8 p. m. Monday in Music hall. It will consist of "Fourth String Quartet," "Ode to Napoleon Bonaparte," and "String Trio."

Wisconsin Players will open a five-night run of Molnar's "The Swan" at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Wisconsin Union theater.

The cast, directed by Fredrick A. Buerki, will include Eugene Schuttey, Sheboygan; Elizabeth Fawkes, Chicago; Richard Lewis, Eau Claire; Paul Ives, Doug Angevine, Barbara Kreutz, William Wagner, Julie Pfanku, and Allen Blomquist, Madison; Sandra Stekl, Baraboo; Norman Janssen, Combined Locks; Caryl Dawn Weiss, Chicago; George T. Weber, Hales Corners; Ellen Anne Enright, Ashland; Minette Lipkin, Waukesha; David Murison, Eau Claire; John Fritschler, Superior, and Milton L. Ferry, Hornell, N. Y.

Later programs will include:

Thursday at 8 p.m., a program of piano music recorded by great composers, Music hall;

Friday at 8 p.m., "Seven Sisters," presented by Central senior high school pupils, Central auditorium.

Saturday morning and afternoon, Madison Theater Guild in "Mr. Dooley," West high school (also Apr. 8 in East high school);

Sunday, Apr. 2, at 8 p.m., Pro Arte quartet, Music hall;

Sunday, Apr. 2, at 4:15 p.m., University Concert band, Wisconsin Union theater;

Tuesday, Apr. 4, at 8:15 p.m., Madison Civic Symphony orchestra and Jean Geiss, pianist, Masonic auditorium.

3 West Scientists to Present Papers

Three members of the West high school Science Club will present papers and experiments at a Milwaukee district meeting of the Wisconsin Junior Academy of Science at Marquette university today.

They are William Rathbun, who will speak on "Bats"; Mary Culver, who will speak on "Honey Bees," and John James, who will tell the "History of Chlorine."

The meeting is one of three district meetings being held to give outstanding young scientific talent in the state an opportunity to present the results of their work.

Another meeting is being held today in Stevens Point and the third district meeting will be held in LaCrosse Apr. 1. Four pupils will be selected at each district meeting to attend the Wisconsin Academy of Sciences, Arts and Letters meeting Apr. 22 in Beloit.
