X-Ray Technicians Will Hear Wilson

Charles M. Wilson, Madison superintendent of the State Crime laboratory, will be one of the principal speakers at the annual convention of the State Society of X-Ray Technicians.

The group will meet Friday and Saturday in Hotel Loraine.

Wilson will discuss the "Use of the X-Ray in Crime Detection" at a Friday noon luncheon.

Ernest H. Pett, Madison attorney, will tell of life "Behind the Iron Curtain" as the banquet speaker at 7:30 p. m. Saturday in the hotel.

Officers of the technicians' group will be elected during a business meeting Friday.

Open to the public will be the prize-winning X-ray film exhibit on the hotel mezzanine. The exhibit won first place for the Wisconsin group in a contest conducted at the national Technicians convention in Columbus, O., in May.

Mail Tickets Available for Royal Philharmonic

Mail order tickets for the concert by the Royal Philharmonic orchestra of England are still available.

Blanks may be obtained at the Wisconsin Union box office between noon and 6 p.m. after the office window has been opened Monday for the new semester.

The orchestra, led by Sir Thomas Beecham, will present its concert at the University stock pavilion Nov. 27 under the sponsorship of the Wisconsin Memorial Union music committee.

BAILEY TO BE HONORED

Robert C. Bailey, 612 Howard pl., who has just completed the examinations which give him a fellowship in the National Society of Actuaries, will be guest of honor tonight at a dinner at the Madison club. Officers and directors of the Wisconsin Life Insurance Co., for which Bailey is actuary, will be guest at the dinner, as will a few actuaries and officials of other insurance companies.

Personal Hygiene Habits Called Best Roads to Health

By DR. CARL N. NEUPERT
(State Health Officer)

Among the many things which contribute to general good health, is personal hygiene—cleanliness, freedom from disease, plenty of rest, and good eating habits.

Personal hygiene is particularly important to all school personnel—school children, teachers, janitors, school lunch handlers, and drivers of school buses.

Present crowded conditions in our schools invite ailments and make it more important than ever that good personal hygiene is practiced.

One forward step in this direction was the enactinent by our 1947 legislature of a law authorizing school boards to require periodic physical examinations of all school employes as well as pupils, to be financed out of school funds and not to include those who object to the procedure on religious grounds.

No school employe should pass up the opportunity to get a chest X-ray for tuberculosis through the state board of health's mobile X-ray program.

Recently, a teacher in one community was found with advanced pulmonary tuberculosis.

Examination of the children uncovered seven additional cases in the classroom. This unfortunate incident could have been avoided by earlier discovery.

The child that comes to school well-rested, clean, and well-nourished is ready to take advantage of what school has to offer.

His breakfast should take care of one-third of his daily food requirements.

A skimpy breakfast actually is harmful to a child.

School programs are an excellent means of instilling and fostering good food habits.

Children learn to like and eat the foods they need, and adopt an adequate diet that will spell present and future good health.

Good personal hygiene builds up a nest egg of physical resistance.

Good diet, exercise, rest, dressing for the weather, periodic checkups by doctor and dentist—that's how it's done.

Church Laymen Conference Set

To Be Sept. 22-24 at Green Lake

The Fourth Annual Laymen's Conference sponsored by the Wisconsin Council of Churches will be held Sept. 22-24 at the Northern Baptist assembly, Green Lake.

Church lay representatives from all over Wisconsin will be welcomed to the gathering by the Rev. Merrill R. Abbey, Madison, president of the Wisconsin Council of Churches.

Madison members of the Laymen's conference committee are W. L. Witte, Ellis H. Dana, Jerry Coulter, Noah J. Frey, Lea Gunderson, and Archie L. Hirst.

The program includes discussion groups relating the church layman to his church activities, community work, and personal problems.

Dana will be leader of a discussion on "Organizing Protestant Cooperation."

Leaders of the discussion on increasing effectiveness of Christian student work in Wisconsin are the Revs. Cecil W. Lower, pastor of the Presbyterian Student center at the University of Wisconsin, Justus E. Olson, of Wesley Foundation at the university, and David Maitland, student pastor of the First Congregational church, Madison.

Shriners Will Dine on Pacific Salmon

A Pacific coast treat — 300 pounds of salmon—will be served as the "piece de resistance" at the Shrine dinner for members of the Zor Shrine temple to be held at 5:30 p.m. Monday in the Masonic temple dining room.

The dinner will mark the first gathering since the Shriners made their pilgrimage to Los Angeles last June.

After the dinner colored slides and movies of the western trip will be shown in the temple auditorium.

ATTEND CONFERENCE

John P. Reynolds, assistant director, and J. W. Vilberg, senior economist, of the Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance, left Saturday to attend the 1950 conference of the Governmental Research assn. at Asbury Park, N. J. The conference which will be held through Friday has for its theme, "Governmental Research in the Second Half of the Twentieth Century."

PORTER The Man To Send To CONGRESS!

YOUR congressman is your closest link with national affairs. To be truly representative of you in Washington be must be a man who knows and understands your problems. He must be ever-mindful of the best interests of ALL the people, not a political opportunist promising everything to everyone.

To know and understand and capably represent the real will of the people in the Third congressional district he MUST BE ONE OF THE PEOPLE. He must be a man who has fought his own way upward in the district, a man who has worked shoulder-to-shoulder with his neighbors for the better things in life. He must have interests in the district, AND A HOME IN THE DISTRICT.

He should be able and experienced in matters legislative. His reputation for personal integrity and honesty must be unassailable. Such a man is the Honorable

FOSTER B. PORTER

FARMERS will be certain of sympathic and understanding representation in congress with Senator Porter because of his experience as chairman of the Grant county agricultural committee; his chairmanship of the Grant county soil erosion committee and his work as treasurer with the Blakes Prairie Agricultural Society.

Instead of mere lip service, members of the great cooperatives in the Third district will have in Porter a man who is a MEMBER OF FIVE CO-OPS and President of Two.

ORGANIZED AND UN-ORGANIZED LABOR is certain of a square deal in congress from Porter. He may be "short" on pre-election "promises" to the workers but his state Senate record shows him to be "long" on fairness with Labor's legislative representatives. It is this RECORD for straight shooting that prompted the legislative heads of the great Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, R. H. Cowan and W. R. McCabe, to voluntarily write Senator Porter, on June 15, 1950, their opinions of his friendship for Labor, as shown by his legislative record. They wrote:

"We have at all times found you ready and willing to give us your attention that we might present our reactions to proposed legislation. THE RECORDS also indicate that you have, quite generally, voted with sympathetic consideration of our program."

An officer and lobbyist for one of the two great Wisconsin labor organizations, chided for not putting more heat on Senator Porter in behalf of labor legislation, is credited with saying: "I don't worry about Porter. If our bill is a just one he's for it. If it is one of the questionable kind, he wouldn't be for it anyway."

VETERANS have a real friend in Senator Porter. He is a veteran of World War I and served with the 299th Aero Squadron. He was chairman of the Veterans' Committee of the state senate and personally handled many of the bills proposed by Veterans' organizations. For his service as Americanism chairman of his local American Legion Post, the American Legion's national office awarded Foster Porter one of its comparatively few Certificates of Merit.

SMALL BUSINESS interests have one of their own kind in Porter. He has built a successful business of his own in Bloomington, heads his small town's bank as well as a couple of mutual insurance organizations.

When you get a man whose community thinks enough of him to keep him on the County Board for 16 years—six years as chairman—and keeps him as President of the Village of Bloomington for sixteen years he must HAVE SOMETHING ON THE BALL.

Men and women of the Third Congressional district have a duty to perform at the primaries on September 19th. It is to end the pitifully futile and distinctly mediocre "services" of the incumbent and nominate and in November
