Marquette Man Raps Schools for Red Ideas

MILWAUKEE —(UP)— A Marquette university professor who once taught behind the Iron Curtain accuses "some large Eastern universities" of condoning the spread of Communist ideas.

Dr. Roman Smal-Stocki, associate history professor, told the annual Marquette current affairs institute Thursday night that the Soviet philosophy has been penetrating some universities for nearly 20 years. Some professors openly follow the Communist party line, he said.

Dr. Smal-Stocki, former Warsaw university teacher who came to this country three yeas ago to escape persecution, said "European scholars who have come here feel a moral duty to their new country."

"These scholars are fighting not against certain personalities in universities," he said, "but against ideas being taught by these schools."

Civil Suit Against Lobbyist Dismissed

Lobbying charges in a civil suit against Milton T. Murray, Milwaukee, were dismissed Friday by Circuit Judge Herman W. Sachtjen on motion of Dist. Atty. Jack R. DeWitt.

Only penalty in the civil action would have been the revocation of Murray's lobby license, which automatically expired last Dec. 31.

A circuit court criminal action against Murray, charging him with being paid lobbying fees on a contingency basis by the Petco Corp., Milwaukee petroleum firm, and with false reporting of lobby expenditures, is scheduled for jury trial the first week in April.
