Jefferson Safe Found in Nine Springs Creek

A 200-pound safe which was stolen from the Peterson filling station in Jefferson last fall, was found Thursday in the Nine Springs creek, along the Oregon rd. about 3 miles from Madison.

Jefferson officials said the safe had contained about $650 in cash, but when it was found, it held only $3.95 in change and water-soaked insurance policies and other papers.

The 16x16x18 inch safe was spotted in the creek by Leonard Lynch, 18, of 524 W. Dayton st., while he was walking along the Oregon rd. He summoned Sheriff Herman P. Kerl and the two lugged the safe from the muddy creek bottom.

Stop Induction of Cheese Men, State Group Asks

If military induction takes away skilled help from Wisconsin's 1,300 cheese factories, ability to handle increased milk production will be threatened, the Wisconsin Cheese Makers' assn. said Thursday.

In a letter to Lewis B. Hershey, director of national selective service, the associate stated:

"Wisconsin produces about 14 per cent of the nation's milk and 50 per cent of the nation's cheese. Milk cannot be economically utilized if present skilled and trained manpower is depleted at this time. There isn't a single cheese factory with surplus help.

"This is a plea for economic stabilization of the state's dairy industry, and not a brief for any individual.

"Only solution appears to be an immediate directive postponing induction of Wisconsin cheesemakers—provided milk receipts at the factory and amount of help justifies such action."

George L. Mooney, Plymouth, executive secretary of the association, said that the letter was "prompted by a feeling of responsibility to the government."

He added that the "seriousness of the situation cannot be overemphasized, and facts are undisputed."

4 Draft-Defying Sons Get Father's Blessing

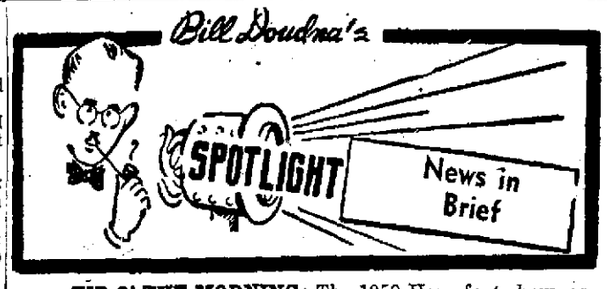
BRUNO, Mich.—(UP)—An angry father of four draft-defying sons said Thursday that "I'll never let my boys fight in a war just so we can make millionaires out of gangsters."

William Doty, 62, a Pine county farmer, told the United Press that he and his four sons defy the military draft and denounce congressmen as "traitors to God and humanity" for passing the selective service law.

The sons—Joel, 24, Orin, 23, Sidney, 21, and Paul, 22—have been indicted by a federal grand jury for violation of the selective service act in refusing to register. "The act is unconstitutional, and a shameful attempt to destroy the moral dignity and rights of man," the elder Doty said.

Free on $1,000 bond each, the youths will appear in federal court at Duluth, Minn., Mar. 2 for a hearing.

One of the boys, Joel, failed to register during World War II but "got by without anybody knowing it."



TIP O' THE MORNING: The 1950 Haresfoot show, as of now, is set to open Saturday, Apr. 14, in Janesville.

* * *

A collection of pictures loaned by the Cincinnati Art museum will go on display Sunday, Mar. 4, in the gallery of the Madison Free library. "Paintings of the Barbizon" school will be shown by the Madison Art assn. at a preview from 3 to 5 p. m. that day, and publicly beginning Monday, Mar. 5.

"The Magnificent Yankee," film version of the play about Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, will be screened for an invitation audience at 10:45 a. m. Saturday in the Parkway theater. Louis Calhern plays Holmes and Eduard Franz, formerly of Milwaukee, appears as Justice Louis Brandeis . . . Brandeis' daughter, Mrs. Paul Rauschenbusch, and her husband have been invited to the preview.

Dick Powell will be in Milwaukee on Feb. 27 for a personal appearance with his movie, "Cry Danger."

Eight days after his Milwaukee concert with the Chicago Symphony orchestra, Pianist Glauco D'Attili will appear with the Waukesha Symphony orchestra at 8 p. m. Tuesday, Feb. 27, in the Waukesha high school auditorium. He will play Tschaikowsky's B-flat minor concerto.

Bill Wegner, graduate of West high school, will direct his second play over WIND, Chicago, at 8:30 p. m. Sunday. It will be enacted by the Northwestern University Players, of which he is a member.

SECOND VERSION: Jack Gaver, United Press drama editor, writes from New York:

The remaking of successful movies of the past is certainly no novelty. It is unusual when the same man turns out a new version of his own work and in a different language from the original, at that.

Seymour Nebenzal is the producer and the picture in question is "M," which bears the distinction of having the shortest movie title as well as being about the first of the memorable crime-films of the talkies.

"I first made the film in Germany just 20 years ago," said the producer during a visit here.

"If I may say so, it was ahead of its time, although that didn't prevent it from being a spectacular world success.

"I've had the idea of doing it again for several years because I think it is even more timely today and our appreciation of the psychological approach to crime is keener."

The German "M," which many persons remember as introducing the movie-sinister Peter Lorre to this country, actually never got too wide circulation in this country.

"I'm convinced that a lot of people here who say they recall the picture never actually saw it," Nebenzal said. "That's another reason for making it. There was no dubbing of English language in those days; the picture had only English subtitles.

"There were few outlets here then for foreign-language pictures and by the time we began to distribute the picture here there was a rising feeling against Germany because of Hitler."

Nebenzal, a native of New York City, got out of Germany at the time Hitler came into power and made films in Italy and France before returning to the United States and setting up shop in Hollywood in 1939.

The new version of "M," which features a chase in which both police and the underworld are trying to locate an unknown psycopathic killer, has David Wayne, Howard DaSilva and Luther Adler in the leading roles and will be put in circulation by Columbia Pictures early this spring.
