Others on the Tallulah Bankhead opus (5 p. m. on WMAQ, 5:30 p. m. on WIBA) will be Paul Kelly, with whom she co-stars in "The Country Girl" on Broadway; Olsen and Johnson, Monty Woolley, Jack Haley, and James Melton.

+ + +

MOVIES: The color films, "Lascaux: Cradle of Man's Art" and "French Tapestries Visit America", both with narration, will be shown Monday night in the Play Circle under auspices of the Madison Art assn. for its members and University of Wisconsin students. Prof. Julian Harris will speak briefly on the films.

The films are having a second showing because, when first shown in December, the attendance was limited by bad weather.

The Lascaux film shows the walls of Lascaux cave in France covered with paintings of animals, magic figures, symbols and dots, considered the beginning of mathematics and writing.

Ferdnand Wendels, author of "The Lascaux Cave Paintings" writes in the foreword to his book:

"The prehistoric wall paintings and engravings in the recently discovered cave of Lascaux, near Montignac in the Dordogne, France, are now recognized to be among the finest of all the achievements of their kind so far discovered. The state of preservation, artistic quality, number and sheer sizes of the friezes make them as one of the greatest and most inspiring spectacles to behold."

The film on French tapestries documents through color and detail photography the greatest achievements of five centuries of French tapestry design and weaving. Loaned for exhibition by the museums of France to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the tapestries include the "Apocalypse" and the "Lady and the Unicorn" series.

FEATURE: September Affair.

TYPE: Love triangle with a new twist.

CAST: Menina Stuart, Joan Fontaine, David Lawrence, Joseph Cotton.

REVIEWER: Rita Doerrmann.

STORY: Menina Stuart, pianist, and David Lawrence, successful engineer, find themselves stranded in Naples, Italy, when they miss the plane to New York. The friendship turns into love amidst the romantic setting of the Isle of Capri—but with complications . . . David has a wife and son—and the wife won't grant him a divorce. Then they learn that the plane they missed sank and they are listed as dead . . . the way to happiness seems open if they can build a wall around themselves and remain "dead" to their pasts . . . but the walls are not high enough and the past slowly pushes in . . .

HIGH POINTS: Hollywood has managed to portray the old love triangle with sympathetic understanding. Both the wife and the "other woman" are pictured as warm and fine . . . both wanting to do the "right" thing. And the erring husband is tired and confused, but not a villain. The final solution is as simple as it is inevitable but without the customary hysterics.

LOW POINTS: The initial meeting of Menina and David, the plane's fatal plunge seem a bit contrived.

VERDICT: Very good. Pleasantly different from the usual run of love stories.

2 Brothers Admit Theft of Car Radio

Two brothers, Peter Scalissi, 29, of 8 S. Lake st., and Ben Scalissi, 26, of 422 W. Johnson st., pleaded guilty in superior court Friday to charges of stealing a $20 radio from a car at the O. C. Harris garage, Route 4.

Ben was fined $25 and costs and Superior Judge Roy H. Proctor ordered Peter continued on parole from a one-to-seven year sentence given him in 1947 for rape of a Madison girl.

Unidentified Planes Give Formosa Alarm

TAIPEI, Formosa—(AP)—An air raid alarm, at first believed to be the real thing, spread excitement Friday in this city, which is preparing for Chinese Communist attacks expected with the arrival of good weather.

Radar detectors spotted the approach of unidentified planes flying toward this Chinese Nationalist island stronghold from the northwest, an air defense spokesman said.

Another government report said there were six planes and the radar eventually lost them. It was not known whether they were hostile.

Later, some officials said they thought the alert resulted from a misunderstanding. But Taipei's air raid wardens believed it was a real air threat.

Boy, 10, Suffering from Cancer, Wants 'to Be with God'

McLEANSBORO, Ill.—(U.P.)—A 10-year-old boy with cancer said Friday that he doesn't especially want to die, but "I can hardly wait to be with God."

He wondered if he would be able to play cowboy and baseball in heaven.

Doctors have said that Donald Redfearn may die at any time, his mother, Mrs. Chloe Redfearn reported.

"He has about 100 cancers," she said. "He keeps hoping that the doctors are going to help him but sometimes I think he knows he hasn't long to live."

He keeps asking over and over, "Will I be able to play baseball and cowboy when I get to heaven?"

Mrs. Redfearn said Donald was a normal, fun-loving boy but was very religious for his age. Recently he joined the Methodist church.

"He prays every night for our boys in Korea," the mother said. "He has a very active mind and likes to follow troop movements in the newspapers."

The McLeansboro Junior Chamber of Commerce raised funds from a basketball benefit and contributions to send Donald to the hospital at Herrin, Ill., for treatment.

The Chamber is going to give him an early birthday party, because he won't be 11 until May 24.

Services Set Monday for John E. Fisher

Funeral services for John E. Fisher, 76, of 2105 Atwood ave., who died Friday in his home, will be held at 8:30 a. m. Monday in the Ryan funeral home and at 9 in St. Bernard's Catholic church.

The Rev. Arnold Lehman will officiate, and burial will be in St. Mary's of the Lake cemetery, Westport. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 tonight.

A native of Springfield Corners, Mr. Fisher was a lifelong Dane county resident.

He is survived by his wife; six daughters, Mrs. Donald Wohlwend, Mrs. David Farmer, and Mrs. Robert Smith, all of Madison, Beatrice, Milwaukee, Mrs. Donald Williams, Decorah, Ia., and Mrs. Harold Petersen, Green Bay; four sons, Donald, William, and Glenn E., all of Madison, and Joseph S., in Montana;

Two brothers, William, Madison, and Daniel, in California; seven sisters, Maude, Mrs. Henry Endres, and Mrs. Daniel McKlusky, all of Madison, Mrs. James Kennedy and Mrs. Edward Walsh, both of Westport, Mrs. Edward Watzke, Waunakee, and Sister Mary Jane William, St. Louis, Mo.; and 11 grandchildren.

3 U.W. Students Enlist in Service

Three University of Wisconsin students were accepted for enlistment in the army by recruiters in the federal building Friday.

They are David N. Dallery, Lincoln Park, N. J.; Robert W. Crawford, Boonton, N. J., and Jack H. Kahn, Milwaukee.

Worry of FALSE TEETH
Slipping or Irritating?
Don't be embarassed by loose false teeth slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a remarkable sense of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Jackson, Hutchins Among 28 Named for Peace Prize

OSLO, Norway—(U.P.)— United States Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson and Robert M. Hutchins, associate director of the new $238,000,000 Ford Peace foundation, were among nine Americans nominated Friday for the Nobel peace prize.

Also nominated were United Nations Secretary-General Trygve Lie, Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, British Attorney General Sir Hartley Shawcross, and French Labor Leader Leon Jouhaux.

In all, 28 persons—but no one from behind the Iron Curtain—were named for the 1951 peace award which is expected to be worth about $30,000.

Seven international organizations, including CARE, the one American group in the list, were nominated. CARE (Cooperative for American Remittances to Europe) has sent food and clothes to the stricken since the war's end.

The list was released by the Nobel committee of the Norwegian parliament which will announce the winner sometime between Sept. 1 and Dec. 10.

Gisholt Lays Off 100 Employes Temporarily

About 100 foundry employes who were laid off Friday afternoon at the Gisholt Machine Co., may return to their jobs Tuesday morning, according to H. Stanley Johnson, vice-president and treasurer of the firm.

The employes, laid off because of a coke shortage which caused the foundry shut-down, were told to call the Gisholt switchboard after 3 p.m. Monday to learn whether the foundry would reopen Tuesday.

Johnson said that if a shipment of fuel is received before Tuesday, the work stoppage will end.

The firm's executive attributed the shortage to the fact that "sufficient amounts of coke are not being manufactured," but he was unable to say why production of the fuel has been curtailed. He said that the recent rail strike may have played a minor part in the present coke shortage.

Johnson said that four Chicago foundries with which he has been in contact, have been shut down for the past four days. He added that the coke shortage also has caused foundry shutdowns in other parts of the nation.

Spencer Man Held on Fraud Charge

Robert Tilz, Sr., Spencer, was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Orville W. Fehlahaber at Wausau Thursday on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

He waived preliminary hearing and was taken to jail at Madison after failing to meet $500 bond.

The government charges that Tilz violated federal law by writing to would-be purchasers of high chairs from the firm he represents, informing them that if they mailed the difference between their down payment and the cost of the chair to him they would save C.O.D. shipping expense.

OPS Rules Out 'Token' Sales as Ceiling Prices

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The government Friday ruled out "token" sales of meat and other items by manufacturers and wholesalers as the basis for fixing ceiling prices.

Ceiling prices now must be based on those which were charged for at least 10 per cent of the items.

Director Michael V. DiSalle of the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) said in a statement the action is designed to reduce the prices of some manufacturers and wholesalers "who are taking advantage of isolated sales before the freeze to establish abnormal ceiling prices for their goods and services."

Other stabilization officials told reporters they did not look for much change at the retail level as a result of the new order.

Blackwood on Bridge

(By Easley R. Blackwood)

Mr. Meek is the type of player who worries constantly. It shows on his face.

South dealer,
Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH (Mrs. Keen)
S—A J 9 6
H—K J 8
D—Q 8 4
C—9 3 2

West (Mr. Abel)	East (Mr. Masters)
S—8 4 3	S—K 7 2
H—Q 7 4	H—A 10 3 2
D—J 10 7 5	D—9 3 2
C—K 10 5	C—8 6 4

South (Mr. Meek)
S—Q 10 5
H—9 6 5
D—A K 6
C—A Q J 7

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 C	Pass	1 S	Pass
1 N T	Pass	2 N T	Pass
3 N T	All Pass

He expects the worst to happen and it often does—possibly because he tips off alert opponents as to where his weakness lies.

In today's hand, for example, Mr. Masters, playing the players as well as the cards, was able to hit on exactly the right defense to defeat the three no trump contract.

Here is what happened. Mr. Abel led the five of diamonds and Mr. Meek won with the king. He laid down the queen of spades and let it ride. Mr. Masters took the king and paused to consider his return.

In the first place, Mr. Meek had won the first trick without hesitation. He had not looked worried. In fact he had looked quite pleased.

It was a good bet that he had the ace of diamonds as well as the king and to return that suit seemed hopeless.

Mr. Masters went back to the bidding. He recalled that Mr. Meek had been reluctant to go to three no trump after Mrs. Keen had raised to two.

Why? He seemed to be well fixed in diamonds, he had already shown an honor in spades and he had bid clubs.

Could it be that he had nothing in the heart suit?

If Mr. Abel had the queen of hearts and an entry, Mr. Masters figured the contract might be defeated. Therefore, at trick three Mr. Masters led the deuce of hearts. Mr. Abel played the queen and dummy's king won.

Here Mr. Meek counted his tricks and found that he had three spades, one heart, three diamonds and the ace of clubs—eight in all.

So he took a finesse in clubs and Mr. Abel won with the king and returned a heart through dummy's jack up to Mr. Masters' ace-ten. Three heart tricks, a spade and a club put the contract down one.

"I wanted to stop at two no trump. I was afraid of that heart suit," wailed Mr. Meek.

"This is news?" thought Mr. Masters.
