LOOKING AND LISTENING

Herbert Hoover to Discuss Hobby of Mining Geology

By TOM E. DANSON

ONE of Columbia Broadcasting System's old, highly rated educational series, "Invitation to Learning," today features another appearance of the former chief executive, Herbert Hoover, who will discuss via the airlanes, Agricola's "De Re Metallica," one of the first treaties on mining geology, which was Mr. Hoover's first professional work.

Dr. Lyman Bryson will act as discussion chairman, with Dr. John U. Nef, professor of economic history at the University of Chicago, as guest panelist on this program to be aired at 8:35 a. m. over KNX.

Ex-President Hoover's appearance on this show recalls his one other guest shot on this program, when he revealed that Presidents fish so that they can get away from it all.

On May 18, 1947, Mr. Hoover discussed the Izaak Walton book, "The Complete Angler," at which time he stated that most Presidents adopt the sport because the only two occasions on which Americans respect privacy are when people are praying or fishing.

The only living ex-President said that he, Teddy Roosevelt and Grover Cleveland were the only Presidents who had been fishermen from boyhood. Others, however, became fishermen after entering the White House, perhaps as a refuge.

In 1912, Mr. Hoover and his late wife, Lou Henry Hoover, translated the Agricola work from its original Latin into English, and he is very well versed in the subject matter of this book and this field.

DOWN TV-RADIO ROW . . . "Topper" will be left home when Bill (Hopalong Cassidy) Boyd journeys to Washington, D. C., to lead the parade for school safety, where over 25,000 school children make up the parade . . . The "Wild Bill Hickok" series bowing in on KTLA tonight (see log) will have absolutely no love interest sequences . . . Steve Seymour, 9-year-old son of emcee Dan Seymour, was pacing up and down the sidewalk in front of NBC-TV studios recently. Approached by one of the staff, he was asked: "Aren't you going inside to hear your dad's show?" "Nope, I've heard HIM once too often," replied Steve, still smarting from a reprimand for shooting BBs through the family portrait.

* * * *

ON TV . . . Starting at 1:25 p. m. today, a double-header baseball game will be Tviewed from KLAC (13), with Sam Balter at the mike . . . Three bears, the famous horse "Coley Bay," a gorrilla parody, and an acrobatic team will provide "Super Circus" a fine bill today from KECA (7) at 5 . . . "Movie Milestones" digs deep into the barrel for the western silent film "Blue Blazes" starring William S. Hart at 5:15 from KTSL (2) . . . John Morley, recently seen in "Lost in the Stars," and John Seymour, popular TV actor, will co-star in the "Hands of Mystery" drama titled "The Masquerading Ming" from KTTV (11) at 6:30 . . . Sen. Estes Kefauver (D.-Tenn.), chairman of the Senate crime investigating committee, will "Meet the Press" tonight on KNBH (4) at 7 . . . Here's the new "Wild Bill Hickok series, starring Guy Madison and Andy Devine in a Civil War opener on KTLA (5) at 7 . . . Calling for the draft of 4-F's along with 18-year-olds, Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, will discuss the draft today on the "March of Time" show from KECA (7) at 7:30 . . . Eddie Cantor, "the star maker" will be spotlighted on the "Comedy Hour" from KNBH (4) at 8 . . . Douglas Fairbanks Jr. and the Les Paul trio high light Ed Sullivan's "Toast of the Town" from KTSL (2) at 8.

ON RADIO—Arthur Godfrey appears today on the New York Philharmonic Symphony program to appeal for contributions, to help reduce the Philharmonic's deficit from KNX at 10 a. m. . . . The tax experts are still wagging their heads in wonderment over the Jack Benny return for 1950, and the bureau boys revisit him for further questioning as this show is aired from KNX at 4, and repeated at 9:30. . . . Joan Bennett, Sam Levene and Thelma Ritter star in Moss Hart's hilarious "Light Up the Sky," the Broadway success of 1948-49, during "Theater Guild" on KFI at 5:30. . . . More musical favorites of yesterday and today will be aired on the "American Album of Familiar Music," at 6:30 tonight from KECA. . . . Paul Hoffman, former head of the ECA, will guest appear on the "Committee on the Present Danger" series from KHJ at 6:30. . . . "Twenty Questions" airs a special broadcast for veterans tonight from the Kingsbridge Hospital in the Bronx, N. Y. when KHJ brings you this feature at 8.

Movie Industry Busy on Defense Films

WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP) Deputy Federal Civil Defense Administrator James J. Wadsworth announced that the American film industry is making a series of motion pictures on atomic, biological warfare to help combat "great public apathy toward the problems of civil defense."

The announcement was made at a press preview of the first of the films to be completed. Called "Survival Under Atomic Attack," it will be released throughout the nation later this month by Castle Films of New York.

New TV Receiver Can Triple Service

CHICAGO, April 14. (UP) A Chicago manufacturing firm says its newly-developed television receiver has double the range of present home sets and can increase the nation's TV audience 25 per cent.

The John Meck Industries said the receiver can triple the area effectively served by a video station and pick up programs 100 miles away.

22,000 Americans Blinded Last Year

NEW YORK, April 14. (AP) More than 22,000 American men, women and children became blind last year. Attentions to four rules could have saved more than half of them, declares Mason H. Bigelow, president of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

The rules: Get prompt and competent attention for any signs of eye trouble. Guard against accidents on the playground, at work and in the home. Obtain regular eye exams, especially for children and people over 40. Join with others to help protect the sight of your family and friends.

It's Possible to Make Game With Hand That Is Overbid

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"We realize that this hand was overbid," admits a Lynn, Mass., correspondent, "but that doesn't bother us as much as the play of the cards.

"West opened the nine of hearts, dummy put up the jack, and East made the rather peculiar but brilliant play of refusing to cover with his king. Declarer led a low trump to his king and returned a trump to dummy's ace, discovering that West was out of trumps.

"Declarer concluded that he definitely needed a trump finesse and that he would have to hope for a 3-2 break in hearts. He therefore returned a trump from dummy, finessed the ten of spades, and drew East's last trump. He then entered dummy with the ace of clubs to lead a heart. East played the ten, and South successfully finessed the queen.

"Since the hearts did not break, however, South had to lose a heart and three diamonds for a one-trick set.

"Could declarer make this contract by any different line of play?"

I agree with my correspondent that the hand was overbid. However, declarer should have made his contract.

After winning the first trick with dummy's jack of hearts, it was correct for declarer to take the king of spades and then lead a low trump to dummy's ace. It was then definitely not correct to lead another trump.

If the hearts were going to break favorably, it was perfectly safe to lead a heart at this stage. If the hearts were not going to break, it was vital to lead the heart rather than a trump.

Accordingly, dummy leads a heart after winning with the ace of spades. East plays the ten, and South wins a finesse with the queen. Dummy is entered with the ace of clubs, and another heart is led through East. South wins another finesse, takes the last heart, cashes the king of clubs, and then gives up three diamond tricks.

When the enemy gets through with their diamonds, South will still have his queen-ten of trumps and is bound to make both of them regardless of which opponent leads.
