LOOKING AND LISTENING

Old-time Farm Windmill Now Holding TV Antenna

NEW YORK, June 27. (AP) Television has brought back to usefulness a piece of farm equipment which rural electrification long since sent into the discard on many farms. That is the old windmill tower, left standing after electric pumps took over the job of producing water once done with the aid of a stiff breeze.

The towers, in their new capacity, are serving as 50 to 75-foot masts for TV receiving antennas. It is surprising how many of the ex-windmills are performing in a field far from that for which they were designed.

A cursory survey of farm areas stretching well into the middle west, some barely within range of TV cities, shows a surprisingly large number of homesteads to be part of the video audience. At least the antennas are as numerous, relatively speaking, in those areas as they are in urban localities. Some farm homes, situated between two or more TV centers, use motor-driven rotary antennas so that they can be directed for reception from opposite points.

Yesterday marked the end of Edward Arnold's first term in the "White House" as he completed his 208th performance as "Mr. President" over American Broadcasting Co.'s network.

During his four years in office, the veteran actor served through every administration from Washington to Coolidge and has been hated and blessed by every shade of political opinion. This will not keep him from serving a second term in office, and a poll of listeners would reveal a unanimous vote for re-election if this were necessary for the continuation of this fine program.

DOWN TV-RADIO ROW—Hattie McDaniel replaces Ethel Waters in the starring role of "Beulah" on the TV series this fall. . . . Oscar Levant probably will be a fall TV headliner with his own hour-long quiz show.... Crosby is getting the TV fever, so he has probably had an offer of little to do and lots of mazuma —for doing it. . . . The 1951 "All-Star Baseball Game" will be aired live and exclusively by KHJ and the Mutual net again this year on July 10.

ON TV—Here they are! The show everybody has been waiting for makes its grand TV premiere tonight on KTSL (2) at 8:30. It's the "Amos 'n' Andy" show, which starts out with an uproarious comedy of errors revolving around the Kingfish and his "induction" into the Army. . . . With the girls outnumbering the boys, a date-rationing system is put into effect on "Holiday Hotel" with Don Ameche from KECA (7) at 9. . . . Happy Willis, L. A. High coed, will again appear on the KTTV (11) show, "Alert for News," at 10:15 for a try at another war bond. . . . At 10:00 over KNBH (4), "Who Said That" is presented. Guest panelists play a guessing game.

ON RADIO—Sen. Richard Nixon's keynote speech at the Young Republican convention in Boston will be aired over KNX tonight at 7:30. . . . Barney Ross, the boxing champion who licked drugs, will guestar on Mutual's "Reporter's Roundup" over KHJ at 8:30. . . . Father (Robert Young) goes into a tailspin when he learns the cost of the "simple" wedding on "Father Knows Best" from KFI at 9. . . . A talk by Guy Gabrielson, chairman of the Republican National Committee, will be aired by KECA at 10:50.

Army Rules Out GI as Slang Expression

WASHINGTON, June 28. (AP) The slang expression "GI" has been ruled out for Army public relations officers. They'll have to refer to a soldier as a soldier.

In ordering this in liaison Bulletin 242 of the Army public information division, issued June 15, the Army said:

"The term soldier is ancient and honorable. Webster's dictionary defines a soldier as 'a skilled warrior.' And never before in history has a soldier so richly deserved this definition . . ."

Marie Wilson Is Planning Plunge Into Television

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD. (AP) Marie Wilson is all set for her plunge into television, and the eastern gals can expect strong competition in the neckline department.

The buxom blonde will make her video debut in her familiar role as "My Friend Irma." The show was originally set to begin in September but may be postponed to the first of 1952 because of Marie's recent illness. At any rate, the format has all been worked out and her well-known charms will be displayed.

"I'll wear a plain dress in the first half of the show," she told me, "and then a low-cut gown in the second half." The less rigid rules of TV permit lower gowns than she can wear in the movies.

Besides her Irma radio and TV shows, Marie is busy in pictures these days. She is co-starring with Groucho Marx and William Bendix and hopes to do another picture before starting the video grind. She still has a contract with Hal Wallis, although she hopes she doesn't have to do any more "Irmas" on the screen. (She wasn't happy with the last one.)

Many people wonder whether Marie is really as dumb as Irma, so I put the question to her point-blank. "Gee, I don't know," she said vaguely. "I haven't figured it out yet myself."

BIG NAMES IN RADIO

A significant item in the week's news was the signing of Bing Crosby for radio. The show will cost his cigaret sponsor $30,000 a week. This means: 1. There is still big money in radio, despite the panic talk; 2. The groaner is not ready for TV.

Observers of the Hollywood scene snickered at the news that Montgomery Clift met Elizabeth Taylor at the airport in New York. Clift said he "just happened" to be there. And a picture co-starring Clift and Miss Taylor just happens to be opening soon.

The industry was heartened by the success of the big-screen television filming of the Louis-Sayold fight in eastern theaters. It could mean a big step forward in the use of sports and news events to bring patrons into theaters.

Theater TV is one of the important factors being planned by the film industry to revive public interest in movie houses. Another element is the increase in the use of color films. The day may yet arrive when nearly all pictures are filmed in color.

Another piece of ammunition which may be used by the movie industry is the three-dimensional film. There have been rapid strides toward making this a reality.

Capsule review: "Happy Go Lovely" proves that engaging musicals need not be an American monopoly. This one was made in England. Although it has U. S.-made stars (Vera-Ellen, David Niven, Cesar Romero) and a Hollywood director, the picture has a British flavor and a freshness all its own. The plot is one of those mistaken-identity things, but it is played with such gayety that you overlook how many times it has been done before. Best assets: Vera-Ellen's remarkable dancing and Niven's brilliant comedy work.

Long Beach Scenes on TV

Long Beach will be spotlighted in a half-hour television program at 7:30 tonight over KTTV Channel 11.

The "Open Road Show," produced by Bill Burrud and Lynn Rodgers, will take viewers on a tour of many of the city's attractions.

The production will be televised later by a New York City station. Negotiations are in progress to kinescope the show for use by other television stations in the east.

Included in the program will be films of speedboat racing in Marine Stadium, the Naval Shipyard, Douglas and North American Aircraft plants, the Pike, University by the Sea, the Casting Club in Recreation Park and a boat trip through Alamitos Bay and the Naples canals.

Mayor Burton W. Chace and City Manager Samuel E. Vickers will be seen welcoming the KTTV tour party at City Hall. Two local beauties, Jeri Powell and Toni Gosselin, also appear in the films.

Live interviews on the show will include D. W. Campbell, Chamber of Commerce manager, and Roy Skaggs, speedboat racer.

Hurley Says Truce at 38 Appeasement

ALBUQUERQUE, June 28. (AP) Patrick J. Hurley, former ambassador to China, describes the possibility of a truce at the 38th Parallel in Korea as appeasement.

A stalwart Republican, Hurley declared, "Dean Acheson is talking appeasement already when he talks about a truce at the 38th Parallel. That isn't what those seventy-odd thousand casualties were fighting for. They wanted to chase out the aggressors and establish a democratic and free government in Korea."

Nehru Asks Peaceful Iran Oil Settlement

NEW DELHI, India, June 28. (AP) Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru has messaged Iran suggesting a peaceful settlement of the oil issue without endangering world peace. The Indian foreign ministry says the Iranian government received the message cordially.

Nehru's message emphasized that any conflict over nationalization by Iran of the British-controlled Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. would be most unfortunate for the whole world.

It said a peaceful settlement would not only be in Iran's best interests but would also enhance Iran's prestige.

Answer to Question No. 1

Yes. When the mother in the novel, "The Robe," starts to weep, the father says, "A mother can rearm her son by her own fortitude." This has a great lesson for us all just now. We cannot minimize the sacrifice; we can only strengthen the boys with our own courage and fortitude. In my observation, most parents, sweethearts and sisters are doing this with dignity and homely heroism.

Answer to Question No. 2

No. The late psychologist, E. L. Thorndike, maintained it is the "half-educated man." The ignorant man knows he is ignorant; the educated knows the limitations of his knowledge. Both are likely to seek the truly wise man. But the half-educated thinks he knows everything.

Answer to Question No. 3

Several studies indicate yes. Psychologist S. F. Klugman had boys and girls solve problems singly and in pairs. They took longer in pairs, but solved more problems correctly. Apparently the longer time was due to talking things over. This was especially true when girls worked together. Research shows that girls talk more than boys; they probably have more to talk about.
