LOOKING AND LISTENING

Former Swim Instructor Stars on 'Range Riders'

By TOM E. DANSON

HOLLYWOOD. More people in Hollywood are doing western-type films and television shows of the horse opera type who never have had previous experience in this field, yet are doing swell jobs. One such personality is Jack Mahoney, star of the current television show, "The Range Riders," produced by the Gene Autry Flying A Productions.

Jack, who came to Hollywood by way of Chicago and Davenport, Iowa, collected his first studio checks as a stand-in for cowboy star Russell Hayden. While on the set, he learned that doubles and stunt men earn much larger salaries than stand-ins, so he went to the director and offered to hire out as a double any time they could use him. His powerful build and fondness for sports helped here. At the University of Iowa, in fact, he spent so much time in the gym that he couldn't keep up his grades and therefore left school at the end of his sophomore year, moving to Long Beach, traditional mecca of Iowans, where he soon found work as a swimming instructor for the Pacific Coast Club.

After release from the Army in World War II, Jack decided upon a career in pictures, but producers and agents were not interested. Casting directors on the lookout for good stunt men were receptive, and he got his start.

He likes television and already has completed 26 TV pictures for Autry as "The Range Rider," with a new series being planned for him with this company.

Jack likes to keep busy and, when not on a picture, goes riding, swimming, flying and sailing. He loves to dance, particularly rhumbas and sambas, likes to cook and design his own clothes . . . and hey, gals, he's unmarried.

DOWN TV-RADIO Row . . . Rather amusing is the letter received by KTLA the other day addressed to "Frosty Frolics." It read: "Gentlemen: Please send me the address of the Alpine Hotel where the 'Frosty Frolics' program is held . . ." The letter continued in part: "Please state the rates for dinners." The prop department is beaming because these all are specially made props for the show.

ON TV . . . KFI (9) features a program of "Homes for Sale" for those in the market at 7:30. . . . Ambassador Warren R. Austin will be the guest of the U. N. Correspondents' Association on the "United — Or Not" show from KECA (7) at 8. . . . "The Story of Joseph" will be presented by the players on "The Living Book" from KNBH (4) at 8. . . . From the Ocean Park Arena, KLAC (13) brings you the wrestling matches at 8:30. . . . Leonard Sues, Toscanini of the trumpet, pays a visit to Eloise McElhone during her show from KTTV (11) at 10. . . . Interviews with people on the famous "wolf corner" of Hollywood and Vine makes up the KTLA (5) programming of "Meet Me in Hollywood" at 10:30. . . . A dramatic film about a stranger who brings peace and happiness into the troubled lives of the occupants of a dingy waterfront hotel on "Hollywood Opening Night" from KTSL (2) at 10:30.

ON RADIO . . . William C. Foster, head of the Economic Co-operation Administration, will be quizzed by reporters on the KNX "Capitol Cloakroom" at 6. . . . The well-known Jerry Devine program, "This Is Your FBI," airs another dramatic and authentic thriller from actual FBI files over KECA at 8:30. . . . Fredric March and his wife, Florence Eldridge, costar in the MGM Theater presentation of "The Citadel" from KFI at 9. . . . In the appropriate season KHJ's "Crime Fighters," series has selected a special story on forest "Firefighters" for airing at 9:30.

Helen Chadwick, holder of the woman's record for crossing the English Channel, native of San Diego, will guestar with Mel Allen on his Clubhouse show from KHJ at 5:55.

Kathy Grayson Suing Band Leader

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 10. (AP) Film singer Kathryn Grayson has sued singing bandleader Johnnie Johnston for divorce. The couple was married in 1947. She asks custody of their child, Patricia Kathryn, 2, and says there is no community property.

Attached to the complaint was a property settlement giving her the family home. In the settlement, Johnston acknowledged that he made unprofitable investments with his wife's funds.

Miss Grayson asked no alimony or child support, agreed to pay her attorney's fees, and released Johnston from any liability for the investment losses.

Dixie Town Treats 5000 to Watermelon

FORT PAYNE, Ala., Aug. 10. (AP) This northeastern Alabama town opened its arms to about 5000 visitors yesterday and the visitors opened their mouths to 3000 free watermelons.

Business closed for the annual occasion. Police Chief Max Robertson covered parking meters with paper sacks. Truckloads of melons contributed by Willard Cole, De Kalb County farmer, rolled into city park.

Mayor Jack Stallworth went through the brief formality of cutting the largest melon and passing slices to official guests.

Cole's 300 acres this year are producing from 50,000 to 60,000 melons.

Answer to Question No. 1

No. About as much as if they were "considering" the Einstein theory. They think they know the "facts of life" but they do not know the facts of married love, family budgeting, rearing children, devising a healthy diet, controlling their passions, etc. Romantic love does not give this knowledge. Our booklet, "Predicting Marriage Success and Failure," shows what types of matings turn out happily. Sent at cost, 15c (coins only) plus self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Answer to Question No. 2

Yes. Psychology is the "systematic study of behavior"—either in animals or in man. Begin by studying the behavior of your dog, cat or horse. They become afraid, angry, happy and co-operative in response to your behavior. Then notice how your mate, relatives or friends respond to what you say or do. Don't get any foolish notion what they ought to do. This stops all careful observation. Try this for a week. You'll be surprised how silly anger and irritation are.

Answer to Question No. 3

No, but they are behaving naturally. Sometimes man has to kick up his heels and have fun at the risk of his life. Biologists say, "We are descended from men who loved to fight" and as a result we naturally love to take chances and gamble with death. Our forefathers also loved fine, beautiful women who could rear them heroic sons. Civilization tries to direct these drives toward more intelligent ends.
