LOOKING AND LISTENING

Power Boost for KNBH Becomes Effective Today

By TOM E. DANSON

HOLLYWOOD. Thomas B. McFadden, general manager of the NBC television station KNBH, announced several days ago a power increase for the NBC (Channel 4) outlet, which becomes effective tonight. The increase in radiated power boosts the picture transmission from 15 kilowatts to 25.25 kilowatts, while sound has been increased from 8 kilowatts to 13.32. Even though figures do not seem to agree, in a technical ratio this is equivalent to almost double in power.

Authorization from the Federal Communications Commission was received last week after many months in their processing files. The FCC television freeze caused several years' delay in granting the application which was filed shortly after KNBH made its Southern California debut.

Greatly improved Tviewing is expected as a result of the power increase, affecting reception mostly in the outlying areas, or what is commonly termed "fringe" areas. Areas now receiving excellent reception from this channel will notice even better video as a marked improvement in definition will be noted.

"It will not be necessary to add any new equipment for this change," said Tom McFadden.

"Only adjustments are necessary to create a wider band of frequencies," he added, "thus giving much better picture detail."

The change-over tests were held late last night and early this morning, between 2 and 7 a. m., when test patterns were transmitted and checked. Checkers in fringe areas also reported results of the testing by telephone to John Knight, engineer in charge of the transmitter, and Bob Clark, chief engineer for KNBH.

This increase is very timely with the new network shows scheduled to originate from the NBC outlet this fall, many of which have been transferred to the West Coast from New York.

DOWN TV-RADIO ROW . . . Spade Cooley is no hillbilly fiddler. He studied cello for four years under Hans von Seitz, the famed German musician and teacher, and was set on a career as a concert artist. The fact that he liked to eat turned him to western fiddle playing.

TELE-TIPS . . . "The Public Prosecutor" will delve into the case of the "Bandaged Hand" during the show on KLAC (13) at 7. . . . "Roving Camera" takes a tour of one of the largest airplanes in the world tonight on KTLA (5) at 7:15. . . . An interesting panel is set for "I Want to Get Married" on KTTV (11) at 9. . . . Screen star Donald Curtis plays host to the kids trying for "Hollywood Screen Test" from KECA (7) at 9:30. . . . For sports fans, it's the "Tele-Sports Digest" which features boat races tonight over KTSL (2) at 10. . . . Nina Foch and John Baragrey will be starred in the Somerset Maugham Theater production "In Hiding" from KNBH (4) at 10.

DIAL-LITES . . . Jeff Chandler will be the special guest on "Chance of a Lifetime," broadcast from the famed battleship USS Missouri over KECA at 7:30. . . . Another factual documentary titled "The Truth About Narcotics" will be aired by KFI at 7:30. . . . The anophthalmia (blind beetles) squealed on a killer during the crime story heard on KHJ at 9:30. . . . President Truman's address dedicating the American Legion building in Washington will be aired by KNX at 11:45 tonight.

New Head of WSB Reported Selected

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP) Nathan P. Feinsinger reportedly has been picked to head the Wage Stabilization Board. He would succeed Dr. George W. Taylor when Taylor returns to the University of Pennsylvania.

Feinsinger, 48, is now board vice chairman. A law professor, he was a member of the World War II labor board. Fred Bullen, a member of the 18-man wage board, is expected to succeed Feinsinger as vice chairman.

Glamour Not Projected Is Soon Rejected, Says Filmer

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 14. (UP) Star-struck glamour girls might as well stop saving up train fare to movieland unless they can "project" their sex-appeal across the "toughest distance in the world," says movie producer Jerry Wald.

Wald, one of Hollywood's top producers, says sex-appeal "comes in many shapes," but no actress can rise to stardom unless she can project it from the screen to the audience.

All of the great box-office attractions have the "magic" ability to project their sex-appeal, says Wald.

"And sex-appeal doesn't necessarily mean a low cut dress. It is many things to many people."

The great film commodity of "oomph" may mean motherhood or a well-turned ankle, Wald says, but it all comes from an "inner glow."

"Take Jane Wyman and Margaret Sullavan," he said. "They're beautiful but not the most beautiful. But they project their appeal."

He says Miss Wyman's appeal is in her sensitivity, while Vivien Leigh is "a pill of atomic energy," and Bette Davis projects "the mood of a tigress."

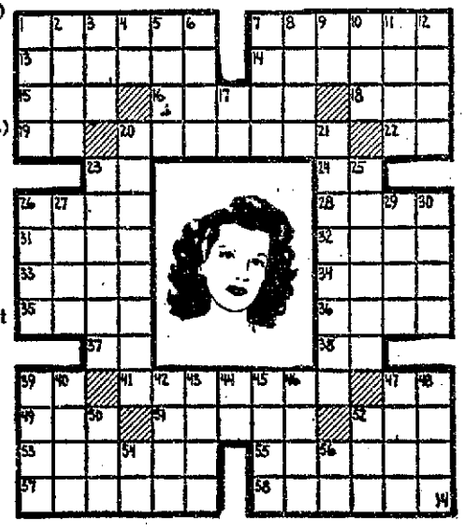
Answer to Previous Puzzle



Let's Explore Your Mind

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Answer to Question No. 1
Yes. A judge recently sentenced a man to spend 30 days reading the book, "How To Stop Snoring." (The wife had agreed to dismiss her suit for divorce if the cure worked.) Author David Horwich, who wrote the book to save his own marriage, tells how he cured himself. (Publishers: Exposition Banner Books, 386 Fourth Ave., N. Y. City.)

Answer to Question No. 2
Yes. Dr. Norman S. Feingold has compiled two volumes, "Scholarships, Fellowships and Loans," "to aid youngsters with 'A' grades who end up as errand boys because they can't afford to attend college." He shows that only one-fifth of the brainiest boys and girls whose family income is below $2000 enter college. "It's a matter of dollars," he says, yet his books list scores of loans and scholarships for these boys and girls. Check your library for the books or wire the publisher, Bellman Publishing Co. 83 Newbury Street, Boston 16, Mass.

Answer to Question No. 3
Yes. Problems today are bigger than any man, party ideology or nation. They involve the survival of law, order and freedom. Your beliefs, attitudes and behavior and mine largely will determine the outcome. An important book for Americans to read: Paul Hoffman's "Peace Can Be Won."
