Democrats Only Ones Who 'Have It Good,' O'Melia Says

RHINELANDER — Top Democrats and their cronies "never had it so good" but it's a different story with the average American, the former state commander of the American Legion said here Friday night in support of Dwight Eisenhower for president.

"Who never had it so good, the widow whose fixed income has been hacked away to less than one-half its 1939 value, or the patriot whose $100 war bonds are worth only $48 today in actual purchasing power?" demanded John F. O'Melia, in a statewide broadcast sponsored by the Eisenhower-Nixon club of Wisconsin.

The same was true for the man who uses his car for work and has to pay 14 cents tax on a 12-cent gallon of gasoline, or the youth who must work one week out of three to pay his taxes, O'Melia said.

Those who "really had it good" include the Chicago gangster who settled his $890,000 back income taxes at 10 cents on the dollar, and William O'Dwyer, former mayor of New York, who was "rewarded with an ambassadorship" when things got hot, he said.
