LUELLA MORTENSON of WKOW took a recording outfit with her on a tour of Lackland Air Base, Tex., by Wisconsin women, and will play some of the interviews with Wisconsin personnel and the visiting group during her programs. Dates haven't been set.

Pvt. Zel Lipsen is the announcer on "Meet Your Marines," a new program on WMFM presented by the Fourth Automatic Weapons battery of the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve. The show was suggested by Corp. Lauren Vander Hoop, who also writes it, with Lipsen's assistance.

LIPSEN

Jerry Bartell's "Playtime for Children" will receive an award in Milwaukee today. It was voted the best program for young children produced in Milwaukee so far this year by the Milwaukee County Radio and Television Council. Dr. Ella C. Clark of Marquette University is awards chairman.

Tony Martin will have his own radio show on NBC at 7 p.m. Sundays, starting July 5.

Robert Q. Lewis will revive his "Waxworks" show on CBS starting June 7. First guest on the weekly program will be Jimmy Durante.

William Wollin, Madison, has become a member of the DX Century club by logging two-way short - wave radio contacts with more than 100 countries. His call letters are W9GWK.

Sunshine Sue, "queen of the hillbillies," will launch a Monday-through - Friday series on CBS Monday, June 8.

Dorothy Warrenskjold will be permanent guest on the summer "Show Train" series, co-starring with Gordon MacRae in original musical romances by Lawrence and Lee.

"Double or Nothing" will be on the ABC network beginning June 22, with Bert Parks as quizmaster.

"Richard Diamond, Private Detective" will return to the air May 31 via CBS, with Dick Powell starring. The show will be the summer replacement for "Amos 'n' Andy."

DISC OF THE DAY: Ethel Bartlett and Rae Robinson do a fine job for MGM on a pair of two-piano works — Schumann's "Andante and Variations" and Brahms' "Variations on a Theme by Haydn." Reproduction of the instruments is weak in the Schumann work, however.

ART SHOW: Ten graduate students from the University of Wisconsin art education department will exhibit a variety of art works in the next two weeks in the only visual masters theses show on campus.

"The masters' exhibits are held twice each academic year and once during the summer," explained Prof. D. Alexander Severino, graduate adviser.

"They are part of the final requirements for an advanced degree in art and take the place of the usual theses required in other departments," he continued. "In addition to submitting work for the show, which has to pass the test of faculty criticism, the students must submit a research paper and write a final three-hour examination."

The current show will be on display in the gallery of the new art education department headquarters in the Education Bldg. from today through June 6.

In the first group of exhibitors, are Charlotte A. Aronson, Chicago, sculpture and ceramics; Audrey D. Brown, Madison, ceramics; Don L. Turner, Milwaukee, graphics and drawings; Marylou Wood, Rochester, printing and graphics, and Ralph H. Seyfert, Port Washington, metal work and graphics.

Starting June 1, these graduates will show their work:

John De Rose, Adamstown, Md., metal work; John R. Franke, Madison, metal work and sculpture; Harry W. Horning Jr., Milwaukee, metal work and ceramics; Ilga Reke, Fond du Lac, paintings, and James N. Hessel, Green Bay, grahics and drawing.

MORE CARRY THAN CASH: Allan Jackson, who recently devoted a few minutes of his nightly CBS news broadcast to the many and varied contents of a lady's handbag, has taken a look at the other face of the coin — or the coin-carrier.

JACKSON

He examined the contents of a man's wallet (the man's name happens to be Allan Jackson), and was duly contrite for his comments about the ladies:

"What, for example, does a man do with four credit cards from one hotel—three of which are out of date? And how about three identical insurance cards? As a member of the Overseas Press Club, we dutifully carry three membership cards with us—two old one and one current one. Multiply this sort of thing by three, four or six organizations and you begin to understand why a man's wallet is usually bulging—even without any money in it.

"But this isn't the end. There were two commuter's timetables (why one wasn't enough we can't explain); there was a hardware store's receipt for new garden tools; the name and address of a shoe firm in Chicago, from which we have never bought any shoes; and, curiously enough, odd bits of note paper containing strange first or last names, which today have no meaning whatsoever. Throw in some old theatre tickets, the usual driving licenses and dog-eared snapshots of babies who are now big enough to play baseball, and you have it."

But what are you going to do with it?

ON THE AIR: The U.S. Weather bureau in Madison has added another weather report at 6 p.m. daily to the state stations' broadcasting schedule, Program Director William Harley said Sunday.

Al Joos, Rupert Baatz, and other members of the weather bureau broadcast from their office at Truax Field.

The addition of this weather broadcast makes a total of four regularly scheduled weather reports broadcast daily over stations of the Wisconsin State Broadcasting service. The early morning report is a Wisconsin weather roundup presented by transmitter operators at the State FM network at 7:15 a.m. This roundup is correlated with a concluding summary presented by Al Joos of the U. S. Weather bureau. At 7:58 another weather report is broadcast, followed at 9:55 a.m. by the third forecast of the day. The noon news carries late-breaking weather information, and the final broadcast of those regularly scheduled is the 6 p.m. weather report. The late evening news at 10:50 p.m. offers a short summary when warranted.

The weather reports are presented in co-operation with the U. S. Weather office and the United Press.

Those receiving orchestra "Ms" will be Judith Thorpe, senior; Kay Berndt, David Burt, Carol Galli, Karen Kindschi, Marilyn Miller, Rose Marie Milz, Judith O'Donnell, Ardath Orians, Jane Ruf, and Sondra Simpson, juniors, and Roger Galli, sophomore.

Receiving senior band "Ms" will be Billie Ann Wenger, senior; David Birschbach, Don Birschbach, Natalie Burgy, John Darling, Shirley Mahle, George Meadows, Judith Nelson, Ardath Orians, Mary Stalder and Marlene Zimmerman, juniors; Allan L. Barnard, Gale Bissell, Tom Cunningham, Daniel Eley, Mary Fritsch, Roger Galli, Barbara Haworth, Robert Olson, and Josephine Stalder, sophmores.

Color TV's Two Years Off, Firm Head Says

CHICAGO (AP)—Color television sets for home use are at least two years away, and they probably will be priced above $1,000 when they reach the market, Frank Freimann, president of the Magnavox Co., said Monday.

Freimann said in a statement present television receivers will not be obsolete or depreciate in value in the foreseeable future.

He said, "They will receive all broadcasts, including color-casts, in black and white—as they do now."

"Color TV," he said, "is many times more complicated than present sets. Invention, development, and engineering are products of time, and the efforts of thousands of people cannot be legislated into being by either wishful thinking or government edict."

Man Who Awoke in Yugoslav Coffin Gets Over Shock

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, (UP)—An elderly man who awoke in an open coffin in a cemetery chapel was reported recovering Monday from a nervous breakdown caused by his narrow escape from premature burial.

Ceda Pavlovic, a former judge, recently was pensioned because of a weak heart. Two weeks ago, his wife found him in the bathtub, apparently dead.

A doctor from the emergency ward of a Belgrade hospital pronounced Pavlovic dead. Death was attributed to a heart attack and the body prepred for burial. According to Orthodox religious practices, bodies are not embalmed and are buried quickly.

Pavlovic was placed in a small mortuary chapel in the cemetery. The funeral was scheduled for the next day. During the night, a watchman heard persistent rapping in the chapel.

He opened the door to find a white-faced, well-dressed man sitting on a bench and talking softly to himself. The watchman called on the man to account for his presence and was told:

"I don't know where I am. I only know I was taking a bath."

The watchman fled in terror and Pavlovic went home. His wife fainted when he walked into the house.

The story was told Monday by neighbors of the Pavlovics. Yugoslav medical authorities refused either to confirm or deny the story.

Water Main Installation Costs Lower Than '52

Installation of water mains authorized by the City Council this year will cost less than last year's rate, according to bid tabulations completed by the Water Department Monday afternoon.

Out of eight bids opened by the Board of Public Works Monday morning, that of G. and W. Construction Co., West Allis, was lowest at a net total of $36,535 on a unit cost basis.

Last year's contractor, the Langer Construction Co., Sun Prairie, was the highest bidder this year at $54,434. Engineers' advance estimates were $60,811.

Other bidders were Peterson and Douglas, Madison, $39,305; Melvin Paulson, DeForest, $41,499; Little-Benney Mining Co., Shullsburg, $42,774; Mike Oliver Co., Madison, $43,924; J. K. Walsh, Madison, $49,105.

The low bid includes a rate of 80 cents a foot for laying 6-inch pipe compared with the 1952 rate of 95 cents a foot.

Airliner Completes Trans-Arctic Flight

TOKYO (AP) — A Scandinavian Airlines DC-6-B Cloudmaster arrived here Monday night after a pioneering flight from Europe to Japan via the great circle route over the Arctic.

The four-engined transport Hjalmar Viking made the flight over the top of the world from Oslo, Norway, to Tokyo, Japan, in 34 hours, 53 minutes flying time.

The sleek silver and white plane took off from Oslo at 3:05 a. m., (CST), Saturday. It landed at the International airport here at 7:58 a. m. (CST). Stops were made at Thule, Greenland; Anchorage, Alaska, and Shemya in the Aleution islands. Total elapsed time was 52 hours, 53 minutes.

The airlines had asked the Soviet government for permission to fly over Sibera, but the Russians turned down the request.

The flight across the Arctic cut more than 1,000 miles from the distance between Oslo and Tokyo via the southern route across Europe and South Asia.

Scandanavian Airline officials said the northwest passage could be flown on a regular schedule if permission were granted by the United States for regular landings at the huge Thule Air Force base.

Mr. Wesley West, president of Town & Country House, says:
"We feel that our location here at Shorewood Corners is especially advantageous in offering you wonderful furniture values. Whether it's contemporary, period, or traditional furniture you have in mind you'll find a wide selection at Town and Country House—famous furniture that has been carefully selected to suit your own good taste, and priced to suit your budget. "The new 'Shop 'Til Nine' hours make it possible for us to offer you more help in selecting your furniture needs. You are cordially invited to stop in our House any time for a visit—whether you are interested in immediate furniture purchases or just trying to get some good home furnishing ideas."
