Sparta Area Radio Operators Hold Annual Field Day

SPARTA — Amateur radio operators of this area learned valuable lessons over the weekend in their annual field day, which began Saturday at 4 p.m. and ended Sunday.

Seven operators, assuming that the area had been bombed and that all communications were cut off, set up a 250-watt generator and other equipment on top of a 400-foot hill at the Cataract tower site north of Sparta. The area was isolated and all supplies, including two tents, water, portable radio sets, and other gear, had to be carried up to the top-of-the-hill location.

The operators made 150 outside contacts and learned how valuable their setups would be in the event other communications were cut off. Three portable transmitters were used in the test.

HERE'S ANOTHER USE

MANCHESTER, Conn. (U.P.) Army Pfc Donald J. Palmer, home on leave from Korea, said he taught English to Koreans with a Sears-Roebuck catalogue as a textbook.

IF YOUR SON IS FIVE OR OLDER . . .

Now is the time for him to own a man-sized life insurance policy at little boy's rates. Acquaint him with low cost security and the Northwestern Mutual. The savings for him will be substantial.

WHY SHOULD YOU INSURE YOUR BOY?

1. Because he will own a man-sized policy at little boy's rates.
2. His insurability will be safe-guarded as to health, occupation or residence.
3. If he enters military service his policy will have a no-war clause.
4. He will learn the habit of thrift at an early age.
5. It will be the foundation of his future investment program.

'UNCLE NORMIE': Funeral services for Norman Ross, affectionately known to thousands of radio listeners as "Uncle Normie," were held Tuesday at the Northminster Presbyterian church, Evanston, Ill.

Mr. Ross, who was 57, died of a heart attack Friday night.

The former Olympic swimming champion was best known for his "400 Hour," which he had conducted on WMAQ since 1935, except for time out when he served in World War II.

While a student at Leland Stanford university, Mr. Ross set his first world records as a swimmer. In 1920, he was a member of the U. S. swimming team at the Olympic games in Antwerp, Belgium, and won the 400 and 1,500 meter events. During his career as a swimmer, he won 72 world titles. His wife also was a swimming champion.

He served in the air force in World War I and flew his first combat mission Nov. 8, 1918. He reentered the air force in 1943 as a captain and became aide to Gen. Jimmy Doolittle, his classmate in flying school during World War I. He left the service as a lieutenant colenel.

"Uncle Normie" had been a Chicago radio figure since 1931, when he began as a free-lance announcer specializing in sports. Before that, he was a sports writer at the Chicago Journal, and a promoter of sports events.

At the Shows

(Reviewed by Richard Vesey)

Opening this afternoon at the Madison theater is a full-length Technicolor film worthy of serious attention from all who want to see the glitter, pomp, and pageantry of the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II.

The film is "A Queen Is Crowned". Its very production is a minor attraction in itself, technically speaking. To our knowledge no Technicolor film of this or any other type and of its scope has ever been made and distributed with such speed.

Considering the thousand and one detailed jobs that made this picture what it is, it can best be described as a brilliant panorama of one of the world's greatest pageants.

The J. Arthur Rank organization deserves some notice for its efforts—perhaps the professional film critics will agree, come award time later this year. The film is narrated by Sir Laurence Olivier and distributed in the U. S. by Universal-International.

The highlight of the film, naturally, is the actual coronation in Westminster Abbey.

Sit reasonably close to the screen. The rich colors — apparently caused by slight underexposure of the original film—make the whole ceremony a brilliant beautiful one.

Watch the queen as she sits on King Edward's chair and you'll see her throw a quick glance and motherly smile at her family in the balcony to her left where her son, Prince Charles stands in small-boyish wonderment at what's going on before him.

The news services made a big to-do about the queen's hair styling. Women will be quick to notice that her beauticians did an excellent job. Despite the heavy crown, her hair "kept beautifully," as the British say.

Women too (or will it be the men?) may find some humor in the scene in which the queen's husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, kneels before her to pledge his allegiance to her reign and to be "her liege man."

Particularly striking photos of the royal family were made after the coronation ceremonies with a long-range lens focused on the balcony of Buckingham palace. Here's a perfect opportunity to see the family in relatively informal pose.

The queen's son and daughter, Charles and Princess Anne, with the excited interest only a child can have, betray the happiness of the queen, her husband, the queen mother, and Princess Margaret.

The intimacy of this film is its most striking feature—the principal element of its fascinating ingredients.

See it if you can.

There may never be another spectacle like it.
