JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By Oswald Jacoby

One of the troubles with Hard Luck Joe is that his feet are far too big for any normal human being. As a result, his feet are always getting in his own way, his partner's way or into his own mouth. In today's hand, for example, Joe held the South cards and managed to get himself beautifully tangled up.

There was nothing much to the play. West opened a trump, and Joe exhausted trumps in two rounds. He took a successful heart finesse, and took a successful club finesse on the way back. He was then able to claim twelve tricks, giving up only one spade.

North looked daggers at his partner, and Joe looked apologetic. "I don't see how we could bid that slam," muttered Joe. "After all, we couldn't make the slam unless both the heart and the club finesse worked."

Joe still hasn't seen what crime he had committed. See if you can spot it for yourself before you read on.

South's crime occurred in the bidding. There was no need for him to bid four diamonds. He had already made an opening bid on a slightly doubtful hand, and there was no need to make a second bid on the same doubtful cards.

If South passed instead of bidding, North would have the chance to continue in diamonds if he chose to do so. Hence South would lose nothing by this pass.

Actually there would have been a great gain. North would not have continued this bidding in diamonds. North would have doubled the ridiculous bid of these spades with speed, delight, and gusto.

Almost any reasonable defense would strip West of his eight cards in the side suits. He would still have to lose two trump tricks, and therefore would be set six for a loss of 1700 points! No wonder North was annoyed at Joe.

Ex-Queen Narriman Asks Jewels' Return

CAIRO, Egypt (U.P.) — Former Queen Narriman has asked the Eyptian government to return the jewels and furs she left in Abdin palace when she fled the country with former King Farouk last year, the newspaper Alahram said Monday.

It reported the request was filed by Narriman's lawyers with government officials. She also claimed payment of her royal allowance for the 14 months she shared the throne with Farouk, plus the reduced allowance earmarked for her during his exile.

In Salem, Nobody Loves the Goddess

SALEM, Ore. (UP) — Nobody loves the Goddess of Love.

By virtually unanimous voice of the citizens of Salem, the buxom statue of Venus, done in the altogether by the French artist-sculptor Renoir, will neither grace nor disgrace the Marion County courthouse grounds in the heart of Oregon's capital city.

The tizzy over the nude came about because the late Carroll L. Moores, willed his estate to the city for a fitting memorial to Oregon pioneers. Moores, a bachelor and a frugal man, was a janitor and elevator operator in the Oregon Supreme Court building, but he left an estate when he died in 1936 that has grown to about $30,000. Two beneficiaries were willed the interest on the estate as long as they lived, which is why the tempest did not arise before.

A committee was named to choose a fitting memorial to pioneers. After a continent-wide search they came up with the suggestion of Venus, now reposing in New York. The howls started. What, asked enraged Salemites, did Venus have to do with the pioneers of Oregon?

Straw votes were taken at service club luncheons and the Goddess could have counted the votes she got on her 10 fingers (yes, Renoir's Venus has hands). Other citizens wrote letters of indignation to the paper. None wrote approval. So Venus is out, and the committee is trying again.

NEW YORK (AP) — Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, legendary figure in American aviation, Monday stepped out of the presidency of Eastern Air Lines, Inc., to become board chairman.

But America's No. 1 flying ace of World War I, remains as chief executive officer of the air line he had served as president since 1938 and as general manager since 1934. He also continues as general manager.

Taking over as president is Thomas F. Armstrong, who started with Eastern as an apprentice clerk in 1928 and had been treasurer and secretary the past 25 years.

THIS is an unusually busy week, for summer, in the theater and concert hall. Two plays, three concerts, and a dance recital are scheduled.

Three of the events will be tonight: two concerts and the dance program.

The University Summer band will play at 7 on the Memorial Union terrace, with Prof. Raymond F. Dvorak conducting. Ruth Zerler, soprano from Plymouth, will be soloist.

The University Summer Symphony orchestra, conducted by Prof. Richard C. Church, will give a concert at 8:15 in Music hall. Frances Port, violinist from Winnipeg, Man., will be soloist, playing the Brahms D-major concerto.

Tonight's third program will be a dance recital sponsored by the University of Wisconsin department of Spanish and Portuguese. It will start at 8 in 272 Bascom hall, and will include dances from Spain, Portugal, Mexico, and Colombia, plus marimbaphone solos by Beverly Edwards.

Wednesday's schedule will start at 3:15 p.m. with a program in Music hall featuring Leona Patras, oboeist.

Admission to all those programs will be free.

The Repertooy Theater will begin its presentations of "The Voice of the Turtle" in the Woman's bldg. at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, continuing through Saturday.

Wisconsin Players will offer "Born Yesterday" at 8 p.m. Thursday through Saturday in the Wisconsin Union theater.

For the plays, you have to buy tickets — but both are good for solid evenings of laughs.

'MISS JULIE': A prize-winning Swedish movie, "Miss Julie," will be shown at 3:30, 7, and 9 p.m. Wednesday in the Play Circle. The screening will be sponsored by the Scandinavian area studies department of the University of Wisconsin. Tickets will be on sale at the Play Circle boxoffice.

"Miss Julie," based on August Strindberg's play, "concerns the problem of repression, neurosis, and class distinction in Sweden at the turn of the century," an announcement of the showing says. "The film is one of Sweden's best, have won the Cannes prize in 1951 at the International Film festival, and is regarded as one of the world's best on standards of photography, theme, and acting."

AT CITY CENTER: The drama season at New York's City Center early next winter will be in the capable hands of Jose Ferrer, who did a memorable job there in 1948. Jack Gaver of the United Press writes from New York.

FERRER

The actor-producer, who had had nothing to do this summer but play his first role in a musical — "Kiss Me, Kate" at Dallas, Tex. — marry Rosemary Clooney during that engagement, while at the same time starting rehearsals for a play designed for Broadway next fall, has agreed to present and appear in three plays at the Center.

Each play, as per the Center's custom, will run for two weeks. The scripts have not yet been chosen. The first will be presented Dec. 11. Ferrer is contributing his services as part of the Center's current drive for public funds to insure its future.

The play that Ferrer began rehearsing in Dallas is called "The Dazzling Hour," his own adaptation of the French original, "L'Heure Eblouissant," by Anna Bonacci. It is being tried out in the stock theater at La Jolla, Calif., and Ferrer hopes to bring it to Broadway in the fall with Gilbert Miller as his co-producer.

Ferrer has to appear before the Columbia cameras in Hollywood in "The Caine Mutiny" late this summer before he can come back to Broadway.

Fears Arise French May Renew Strike

PARIS (UP) — Troops and police sorted great heaps of accumulated mail Monday as fear arose that the strike by 2,500,000 state employes might be renewed and paralyze France again.

All-day meetings of the leaders of two unions which started the strike produced no disposition to accept new government decrees which set off the original walkouts.

The Communist-dominated National Railway Union Monday ordered its members to organize a new rail strike as soon as possible.

Postal and telepragh services still were crippled, as were some coal mines and scattered gas and electric plants.

A movement gathered momentum to recall the vacationing National Assembly. The executive committee of the Christian Workers Confederation joined Communist and Socialist deputies in requesting an emergency session.

Dick Woodman Says:
"I'M SELLING A START IN LIFE"
"I'M not selling life insurance; I'm selling educations which will enable boys and girls to have a fair chance at the few fine jobs in the world, educations which enable them to lead satisfying and useful lives. If you don't believe me, go to wise fathers and ask where the money for college comes from; go to widows and ask how they can afford to send their children to college; go to university deans and ask them where they have seen the money for college come from. These people will explain what I mean when I say, 'I'm not selling life insurance.'"
