$2,215 Judgment Asked in U. S. Suit

Judgment for $2,215 was asked in a Madison Federal Court suit filed Thursday by U. S. Atty. Frank Nikolay against the Seaboard Surety Co. of New York for alleged withholding and insurance taxes due from the Lehman Construction Co., Watertown, under a $57,714 contract for construction of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church of Lannon in Waukesha county.

Lincoln County Tavern Man Gets Jail Term

MERRILL (AP)— second Lincoln county tavern proprietor drew a jail term Thursday in an action growing out of the death of two youths in an auto accident Aug. 8.

Louis Peterlick, 50, town of Harding, pleaded guilty before Judge Max Van Hecke to 17 counts of serving intoxicating liquor to minors. He was fined $200 and costs, sentenced to six months in jail, and had his license revoked for one year.

Previously, Paul Graap, similarly charged, was fined $170 and costs, drew a 60-day jail term, and lost his license for one year.

Authorities said nearly 40 teenage youths were questioned.

3 Madison Teachers to Appear on WIBA

ANOTHER INNOVATION in the Madison Theater Guild's schedule was announced Thursday night by Pres. Joseph H. Klein at the organization's first general meeting of the 1953-54 season.

Instead of staging each of its adult plays in two high school auditoriums, the Guild this season will present one show at East high, two at West, and one at Scanlon hall. This will be done to eliminate the task of moving settings, costumes, and properties across town during a show's run.

Last year's innovation was the presentation of a play in arena style. This was done outside the regular series. This year, an arena production of Moliere's "The Miser" will be on the season-ticket schedule.

The season will open with "Liliom" at East high school Nov. 5, 6, and 7, "Jezebel's Husband" will be presented Feb. 4, 5, and 6 at West; "The Miser" March 10 through 14 and March 17 through 20 at Scanlan hall, and "The Man Who Came to Dinner" May 13, 14, and 15 at West.

Two children's plays also will be produced—"The Three Bears" Dec. 5 at East and Dec. 12 at West, and "Rumpelstiltskin" April 3 at East and April 10 at West.

E. D. "Al" Barraclough will direct the plays.

Members of the Guild will begin selling season stickets today. The books also will go on sale today at Yost's-Kessenich's and on Monday at the Madison Community Center. There, the boxoffice will be open from 4 to 8 p. m. Mondays through Fridays.

DISCS OF THE DAY: A recording of the Amsterdam Concertgebouw's 1939 performance of Bach's "Passion According to St. Matthew" has been issued by Columbia in an album consisted of three 12-inch records, the German text, and the Drinker translation. Willem Mengelberg is the conductor. Besides the orchestra, the artists are the Amsterdam Toonkunstcoir and boys' choir, and six soloists. It's a marvelously sweeping performance, from solos to the gigantic massed effects. You'll even hear an occasional cough from the audience.

BALLET THEATER: When the Ballet Theater returns to Madison April 8, it will give two performances—afternoon and night—at the Parkway theater.

The company of 100, now touring Europe, will be headed by Alicia Alonso, Igor Youskevitch, John Kriza, Mary Ellen Moylan, and Melissa Hayden.

Joseph Levine and Paul Strauss will conduct.

HISTORY BY RADIO: — A state-wide radio study program on Wisconsin history was announced Wednesday by Clifford Lord, director of the State Historical society. Open to any citizen of the state, the program will feature guest lectures by authorities on Wisconsin history followed by discussions over the air and in local groups.

Idea for the program developed from numerous requests the society has received in the past months for information and data on Wisconsin history.

"We hope this program will allow Wisconsin citizens to gain a better understanding of their state's heritage," Lord said. He added that as far as he knows it is the first attempt at carrying a state's history by radio to a statewide audience.

First program will be broadcast Sept. 15 at 8 a. m. over the state network and thereafter the third Tuesday of every month through June, 1954. After the 30-minute guest lecture, a 15-minute panel discussion will raise questions and underscore points made by the lecturer.

Local historical societies and other interested organizations are sponsoring study groups throughout the state. They will listen in a group to the broadcasts and then conduct their own discussions under the guidance of local leaders. The society is furnishing advance reading lists and other material for use by these local groups.

First lecture will be by Prof. Andrew Clark of the University of Wisconsin on "The Geographical Background of Wisconsin History."

Anyone interested in participating in the program or receiving further information about it may write: "The State Historical Society, 816 State St., Madison 6, Wis."

New York City Opera to Give Productions Here Nov. 23-24

For the first time in Madison's musical history, a world-famous opera company, the New York City Opera, has been engaged for two performances this fall at the Wisconsin Union theater.

The company will present "La Traviata" by Verdi on Nov. 23 and "The Marriage of Figaro" by Mozart on Nov. 24.

The engagement replaces "John Brown's Body" which was originally scheduled for this time. Routing changes on the Paul Gregory production made it impossible for the show to reach Madison in the fall.

In addition, the Charles L. Wagner company, which has been touring the country with top-notch productions at popular prices for several seasons, will offer "Il Trovatore" on Oct. 26 in the theater. All operas are sponsored by the Wisconsin Union Theater committee.

A studio opera is planned for late fall in the Union Play Circle also, co-sponsored by the Wisconsin Players and the Union Theater committee, to complete the fall opera festival.

Ticket sale dates for the productions will be announced soon.

FEATURE: Mr. Scoutmaster.

TYPE: Comedy.

REVIEWER: Don Davies.

CAST: Robert Jordon, Clifton Webb; Mike Marshall, George "Foghorn" Wilson; Helen Jordon, Frances Dee; Reverend Stone, Edmund Gwenn.

PLOT: Jordon's cereal-sponsored TV show appeals to adults, but doesn't seem to have the stuff to hold the kids, which doesn't sell cereal. In an attempt to find what the youngsters will enjoy and keep his sponsor, Jordon accepts the scoutmaster duties in a troop that has already run through several leaders. During his scoutmaster stint, he finds added trouble, to his adequate lot, in Cub Scout Mike Marshall, a tall-tale spinner of some ability. Combine this with an overnight camping trip, an all-night search for scout and scoutmaster, the antics of a few dozen scouters, and Mrs. Jordon's desire to adopt a youngster and you have the ingredients of Mr. Scoutmaster's hectic life.

HIGH POINTS: Sympathetic performance by small George "Foghorn" Wilson; snatches of witty dialog by Webb.

LOW POINTS: Story moves slowly in parts, lengthened beyond content value.

VERDICT: Light and laughable comedy, but below Clifton Webb's capacities.

YOUR COMMUNITY THEATRE

Takes pride in announcing another season of entertainment plays that you will enjoy. Each play has been carefully selected to provide you with the outstanding entertainment value of the year.

"Liliom" . . . November 5, 6, 7, . . . East High School
A touching romantic drama that was the basis of the musical play, "Carousel".

"Jezebel's Husband" . . . February 4, 5, 6 . . . West High School
The Guild's first production of a play prior to Broadway. Written by Robert Nathan, Pulitzer Prize novelist.

"The Miser" . . . March 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 17, 18, 19, 20 . . . Scanlan Hall
THEATRE-IN-THE-ROUND with the audience seated on all four sides. Intimate theatre at its best.

"The Man Who Came To Dinner" May 13, 14, 15 . . . West High School
Broadway's long-run laugh farce by the authors of "You Can't Take It With You", another Guild hit.
