MARTHA LIPTON ON SIMULCAST

Mezzo-soprano Martha Lipton will make her first appearance on the "Voice of Firestone" Monday, when the program is simulcast over the ABC radio and television networks from 8:30 to 9 p.m.

Miss Lipton, a star of the Metropolitan Opera company, has also sung with the Philadelphia Symphony orchestra and the Vienna Opera company. She will sing three solos—"Bali H'ai" from "South Pacific," "Stride la vampa" from Verdi's "Il Trovatore," and "Annie Laurie," by Scott.

Miss Lipton will also join the chorus in singing "The Night Was Made for Love," from Jerome Kern's "Cat and the Fiddle."

Howard Barlow will conduct the orchestra and chorus in "The Smile That She Means For You," from "Madame Sherry" by Karl Hoschna, and Verdi's "Anvil Chorus" from "Il Trovatore."

Mr. Barlow will round out the program with an orchestral rendition of Tchaikovsky's "Sleeping Beauty Waltz."

MUSICAL GOBLINS

Musical goblins will give a preview of Halloween on "The Tony Martin Show" Monday (WRCA-TV, 7:30 p.m.). Tony will sing "It's a Most Unusual Day," "That Old Black Magic" and "If I Give My Heart to You." The singing Interludes will be heard in "Cinnamon Sinner."

GLASS BLOWING ART ON SCIENCE SHOW

Scientific laboratories and research projects require apparatus specifically designed to overcome the job's indivdual problems—and there is much glass apparatus that has to be made on the spot. The "Johns Hopkins Science Review" will present demonstrations of the special art of blowing glass for science on the telecast today at 1 p.m. over WABD.

John Lehman, master glass blower at the Johns Hopkins university, will demonstrate how he prepares special glass apparatus for Hopkins research projects.

Dr. Alsoph Corwin, professor of chemistry, will demonstrate the manner in which he uses this specially prepared equipment in his own research.

Radio to TV

Fran Carlon, well-known radio actress, steps into the television role of Portia, dynamic woman lawyer whose career threatens to destroy her marriage on CBS television's serial, "Portia Faces Life," seen every Monday through Friday at 1 p.m.

Telecast Topics

viving similarly-forgotten masterpieces, the others being "L'Oracolo" and "The Pearl Fishers," to be seen later in the season.

The action of "L'Amico Fritz" takes place in a European village where farmer Fritz is the wealthiest landlord of the community. His friend David comes with a petition that he permit several of his tenants to marry. Fritz, a confirmed bachelor, objects, until he meets Suzel, a beautiful milkmaid, who changes his mind.

Gabor Carelli, Metropolitan Opera tenor, will be seen as Fritz; Madeliene Chambers, soprano, will be Suzel; and David Aiken, baritone of the New York City Center Opera company, will be David.

Fake Security

A woman's attempt to provide "complete security" for her husband in his later years leads to her fleecing at the hands of an unscrupulous operator in "Heaven on Earth," a television play on American Inventory this afternoon over Channel 4 at 12:30 o'clock. A refugee with her husband from Hungary, the woman is bilked by a scheme promising "all of life's most satisfying comforts for men of 60 throughout their declining years." When the husband learns of his wife's victimization, he reveals an unsuspected business sense for a surprise ending.

Rocky Makes News

Rocky Clark, of Fairfield, WNHC-TV news editor, was bowling in an alley that had recently acquired shiny new bowling balls—and Rocky acquired a broken big toe. He wound up for the first throw and the ball slipped, landing squarely on his big toe. Rocky, a jazz enthusiast and music lover, then did a dance that would have made Ray Bolger envious.

Rocky is now back at his New Haven desk, recovering nicely, but limiting his "bowling" to "bowling them over" with news.

Lanza to Sing

Mario Lanza will appear on the "Show of Stars" color production Thursday night over Channel 2 at 8:30 o'clock.

Lanza's television debut on the "Shower of Stars" program, in which he co-starred with Betty Grable and Harry James, caused nationwide attention over the use of recordings. When questioned by the press concerning this, Nat Perrin, producer of the show, said at that time: "We hope to have Lanza return to sing live on another program." And so, Mr. Lanza will do exactly that on the Thursday night program, when he will appear with Edgar Bergen, Charlie McCarthy, Sheree North and Gene Nelson in the musical revue, "Lend an Ear."

'DAY' SPEAKERS

The Rev. Chester Pennington, of St. Paul's and St. Andrew's Methodist church, Manhattan; Rabbi Emanuel Green, of the faculty of the Hebrew Union College, Jewish Institute of Religion, Tuckahoe, N. Y.; the Rev. Dr. Jesse Stitt, of the Village Presbyterian church, Manhattan, and Fathers Joseph Flynn and John Keating, of the Paulist Information Center also Manhattan, will be the guest speakers on WCBS-TV's inspirational series, "Give Us This Day," the week beginning today.

Broadcast at both sign-on and sign-off every day of the week, "Give Us This Day" will feature the Rev. Mr. Pennington today and Monday; Rabbi Green on Tuesday and Friday; Father Flynn on Wednesday; the Rev. Dr. Stitt on Thursday; and Father Keating on Saturday.
