TURNING THE DIALS

BY FRED H. RUSSELL

The piano playing Casadesus family, the internationally famed father Robert, his wife Gaby, a pianist of brilliant reputation and their elder son Jean, well known for a "family" reputation ... afternoon as soloists with the New York Philharmonic Symphony orchestra under the direction of Dimitri Mitropoulos on CBS radio this afternoon. Robert and Gaby Casadesus will open the broadcast program as soloists in Mozart's "Concerto for Two Pianos and Orchestra in E flat." This concerto was composed early in 1779 for performance by Mozart and his sister, Nannerl, and the score was written says Mozart biographer Abert for parts which go their way harmoniously and in joyous fashion like the Mozart sister and brother.

Jean Casadesus will be heard next as soloist in Saint-Saens "Concerto for Piano and Orchestra No. 2 in G Minor."

Maestro Mitropoulos will direct the orchestra in a contemporary work, William Schuman's choreographic poem "Judith." This work was written in 1949 for Martha Graham the dancer on a commission from the Louisville Philharmonic Society and was first performed by that organization and Miss Graham in 1950.

Jean Casadesus will also be the interview guest of James Fassett and will discuss life in a virtuoso family.

The program is heard from 2:30 to 4 o'clock.

Retarded Children

In connection with National Retarded Children's Week, WICC radio will carry a special program at 7 o'clock tonight entitled "The Retarded Child —Who He Is, and What Is Being Done for Him."

Participating will be Mrs. Edward Gall, moderator, George C. Appell of Milford, Mrs. William Saunders, a teacher at Columbus school; Mrs. Theodore DeCato, membership chairman of the Parents and Friends of Mentally Retarded Children of Bridgeport, Inc., and John Doughtery, a member of the Connecticut State Council for Retarded Children.

Kern Discussion

Dorothy Fields who wrote the words of Jerome Kern's ever-beloved "The Way You Look Tonight" will reminisce about working with the composer on the Kern memorial program on CBS radio's "New in Music" show this afternoon at 1 o'clock. The song was written for "Swingtime," a movie starring Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire and won the Academy Award as the best song for 1936. Robert Merrill, the Metropolitan Opera baritone, will sing the number.

Now On Sunday

"The German-American Hour," conducted over WNAB by Ellen Mar and the internationally known mezzo-soprano is now being heard on Sunday nights at 7:30 o'clock. Previously heard on a weekday night the popular program features guest artists and the latest German records.

Two Masters

Music of Beethoven and Honegger will be performed by the Boston Symphony orchestra under the direction of Charles Munch Monday o'clock night over NBC radio at 8:15.

The program will open with the overture to Beethoven's only opera "Fidelio." The major presentation will be "Symphony No. 4" by the contemporary Swiss composer Arthur Honegger. The symphony in four movements is sub-titled "The Delights of Basle." It utilizes some folk tunes of the Basle area.

Violin Soloist

The violinist Joseph Fuchs will play the final movement allegro energico of Bruch's "Violin Concerto in G Minor" as soloist with CBS radio's "The Symphonette" this afternoon under the direction of Mishel Piastro. The great violinist and teacher Leopold Auer called this work an artistic Declaration of Independence. The last movement is a brilliant close to an inspiring work.

Mr. Piastro will also conduct the orchestra in a Chopin Nocturne in an orchestral arrangement by Glazounov and in Boisdeffre's "By the Brook" and Ziehrer's "Vienna Maidens" waltz.

Old Vienna

The reopening of the Vienna State Opera House sparks Ruth Steinkraus' "Music for a Sunday Evening" tonight over WICC radio, with recording of Haydn, Beethoven, Schubert and other masters associated with things Viennese.

An interesting sidelight will be the playing the Haydn's "The Rider" quartet in honor of Miss Steinkraus' brother, Billy, the captain of the U. S. Equestrian team which just appeared in the National Horse Show in Madison Square Garden. Like his sister, Billy is an accomplished musician and plays the viola.

In answer to many requests Miss Steinkraus will play "Song of the Earth" by Gustave Mahler, the man who built the Vienna mecca for opera-lovers to its place in the music world.

Future of France

"What Is the Future Role of France in Europe?" will be the topic of America's Town Meeting of the Air tonight at 8 o'clock over WNAB and WABC.

Guest speakers will be Robert Valeur, counsellor French Embassy; and Quincey Howe, American Broadcasting company commentary and historian.

The moderator of the program will be Shepherd L. Witman, director of Residential Seminars on World Affairs. The program will emanate from the International House, New York City.
