TURNING THE DIALS

BY FRED H. RUSSELL

A [illegible] of the CBS radio network programming [illegible] return of a new and more [illegible] CBS [illegible] series and the debut of two [illegible] "Indictment" and "Fort Laramie" [illegible] according to Howard C. Barnes [illegible] programs. Mr. Barnes said [illegible] agreed to [illegible] free [illegible] offer a [illegible] of changes [illegible] to the [illegible] the public which has given [illegible] evidence that it wants more top radio [illegible].

Mr. Barnes also emphasized that these new programs represent a considerable investment and echo statistics the CBS management continuing faith in the drawing power of radio.

The "CBS Workshop" to be presented Friday at 8:30 to 9 p.m. starting [illegible] Works [illegible] 1947 and go [illegible] new [illegible] in drama to the radio audience.

In returning the "Workshop" series to the air CBS radio's main purpose Mr. Barnes said is to spotlight these new [illegible] in drama which may be too offbeat for presentation on a regular commercial basis which nevertheless deserve a radio showcase.

Tonight's of the unusual "Workshop" presentations will be a two-part adaptation of Aldous Huxley's "Brave New World" narrated by the author, an original script by Robert Nathan also narrated by the author, a Bernard Herrmann opera and a drama in which psychographic techniques will be used for the first time on radio.

The other two dramatic series "Indictment" and "Fort Laramie" will be Sunday afternoon programs with the latter being inserted into the schedule this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock and the former making its bow next Sunday at 5:05 o'clock.

The locale of "Fort Laramie" starring Raymond Burr will be a post-Civil War military post with the writing team of "Gunsmoke" John Meston and Norman Macdonnell assigned to write and direct respectively.

"Indictment" will document the work of the New York district attorney's office in its varied and far-flung operations.

Another change scheduled for this afternoon will be the presentation of "Young Ideas" series showcasing new local talent and emceed by Fred Robbins at 2:05 o'clock. The program was formerly heard Saturday night.

Three Guest Singers

Three guest singers will be featured on Nino Bellassai on his radio program over WNLK, Norwalk this afternoon at 1 o'clock. They will be Carol Brienza, 11 years old of Milford, Anthony Fedele baritone, of Stamford and Tomassina Siano, Bridgeport soprano.

Steele on Radio

Ted Steele "WOR-TV's popular Mr. Mayor" launches a live music series on WOR radio tomorrow. The [illegible] personality and top musical numbers of this video series will be heard daily from 1:30 to 2 p.m. on the new "Ted Steele Show."

The musical series will increase Steele's time to a total of 17 and one-half hours a week.

The aggregation of music makers includes Lois Bannerman, harpist, Tyree Glenn trombonist, Corly Robbins pianist, Bobby Caudana, accordionist, and Tommy Abruzzo, bass player. Steele plays the piano and organ.

Youth Music

Music that is old and new and written for children without being "written down" to them, will be the exploration of Ruth Steinkraus' "Music for a Sunday Evening" over WICC tonight from 8 to 11 o'clock. Two guests concerned with the Youth Concert of the Connecticut Symphony will join Miss Steinkraus.

The guests will be John Pennington, of Branford, former first violin at with the London String Quartet and Mrs. George Kish chairman of the Youth Concert committee. Mr. Pennington will bring to the program recordings of the London String Quartet, including William Primrose, the violinist, as well as himself.

Among the pieces to be played are the ballet suite "Old King Cole" by Vaughan Williams, "Young People's Guide" by Benjamin Britten, the opera "Bewitched Child and Sorcerer" by Ravel as well as Bartok and Mendelssohn piano compositions for children.

Sub for Sokolsky

Three top writers and editors will substitute for George E. Sokolsky on the writer and commentator's Sunday night program over WNAB and WABC at 7:15 o'clock for the next three weeks.

Victor Riesel, nationally syndicated columnist will take Sokolsky's place tonight. Ralp de Toledano, associate editor of Newsweek magazine, will take over the broadcast on Jan. 29. Eugene Lyons senior editor of Reader's Digest and an authority on communism in Russia will handle the broadcast on Sunday, Feb. 5.

Tebaldi To Sing

The internationally celebrated diva Renata Tebaldi will return to the "Telephone Hour" tomorrow night at 9 o'clock over WRCA for her third guest appearance.

The entire broadcast program will be made up of music from opera. The soprano will sing three arias: "Pace Pace Mio Dio" from Verdi's "La Forza del Destino," "In Quelle Trine Morbide" from Puccini's "Manon Descaut" and the "Ave Maria" from Verdi's "Otello." The symphonic orchestra will be heard in the prelude to the third act of Verdi's "La Traviata" and the overture to Sinigaglia's "La Baruffe Chiozzotte."

Team Reunited

Andre Baruch and Bea Wain return to radio as team for the first time in several years next month in a 1 to 2 p.m. weekday program over WABC. The husband-and-wife team ran the known disc show for several years on WMCA in New York under the title of "Mr. and Mrs. Music" but since that time

Telecast TOPICS

BY FRED H. RUSSELL

Lynn Dollar, the page girl who escorts contestants on stage and introduces them on CBS television's quiz program, "The $64,000 Question," is a farmer's daughter from Selfridge, N. D. Blonde, slender, blue-eyed Lynn attended grade school in Selfridge and high school in nearby Bismarck. She then went to Los Angeles where she did defense work (slithering through narrow spaces in plane hulls to install wires) for Douglas Aircraft. As World War II drew to a close, Lynn moved on to Chicago where she did fashion modeling for two years, then on to New York for a year of the same.

From Manhattan, she ventured on to Los Angeles, where she was signed for the movies by Howard Hawks but never called upon to appear in a picture.

After a brief fling as assistant to television producer Leonard Key on a local show, in San Francisco, Lynn moved back to Los Angeles for similar duties on a local program called "Stars are Bright."

Next stop was Philadelphia where she worked as a fashion commentator on a program emceed by Ernie Kovacs. Later, in the same city, she appeared on a weather show. She also did a radio disc jockey show in Chester, Penn., with Jerry Warren, "The Record Shop," and filled in for a while on another disker, "The Night Watch."

Next was Trenton, N. J., where Lynn was part of a three-hour five-a-week "Lynn Dollar-Jerry Warren Show," which featured chatter and local interviews.

Lynn was appearing on the local "Marco" program on WCAU in Philadelphia when she was called to New York for the premiere of "The $64,000 Question," which proved a success.

The blonde beauty lists as her only nobby the making of furniture ("a full time job") and the home-made furniture which graced her Philadelphia apartment is now resettled with her in Manhattan.

Civil Defense Show

Starting tomorrow, WNHC-TV New Haven, will present a new series or programs conducted by the Junior League of New Haven in cooperation with the Civil Defense. The program, entitled, "The Drama of Survival," will be seen every Monday morning from 11 to 11:30 o'clock as a weekly half hour feature of "The Yankee Peddlers." The six-week series will consist of movies, interviews and guests and practical demonstrations in survival.

Ben Hawthorne host of "It's A Pleasure" seen Thursday nights at 7 o'clock over WNHC-TV, will produce and moderate the series. The introductory program will feature a panel discussion with special guests Mayor John N. Dempsy of Putnam, Battalion Chief Andrew Flanagan of the New Haven Fire department and deputy director of Civil Defense in New Haven, Captain Lee Mulcahey, state Civil Defense Director, and Robert Corley, of New Haven, area Civil Defense director.

Cameras Are Busy

Bob Hope again will introduce American television viewers to stellar attractions from England and Continental Europe when he presents "Bob Hope's Spectacular International Show" on NBC-TV Tuesday night Feb. 7 from 8 to 9 o'clock.

Already scheduled for the program of comedy glamor and beauty are Fernandel, French comedian (who is familiar to Americans through his films and the widely circulated picture book, "The Frenchman"), and a glamorous fashion show from Paris, which will feature world-fame couturiers.

The program, fourth in Hope's current series of eight, is being especially filmed in England and France for the American showing. In 1954 Hope filmed the first comedy-variety program abroad for television presentation in the United States on Dec. 7 of that year. During the program several stars including Maurice Chevalier, made their American TV debuts.

Brief Items

Leo Durocher's resignation as master of ceremonies for NBC-TV's Sunday night "Variety Hour" came as no surprise. He has been unhappy with the chore since the first.

Milton Berle would like to skip television next year and give both himself and the audience a rest.

Rosemary Clooney is scheduled to start filming her television series next month. She is keeping an eye out for the stork.

Groucho Marx is not kidding when he talks about quitting. He is really tired of television.

The producers of "MGM Parade" are working hard to improve the show to meet competition.

And "Medic" is likewise being tinkered with in hopes of attracting a larger audience.

Alfred Hitchcock's daughter, Patricia, is in his show about the Lizzie Borden case tonight. She will be seen in a supporting role.

"First Nighter," the old radio show that made Don Ameche a star, is headed for television as an anthology series.

The last film made by the Marx Brothers "Love Happy" (1950) is set for the television syndication route. And Marilyn Monroe is in it—for 15 seconds.

Veteran INS writer Bob Considine has been signed to host and narrate Warners' upcoming half-hour TV'er, "High Venture," which will cover all facets of aviation.

Claudette Colbert is now looking for a television series that will enable her to make a dramatic appearance every third week.

Movie Nominations

The second annual telecast of the Motion Picture Academy Nominations has been scheduled for Saturday night, Feb. 18 over NBC-TV from 9 to 10:30 o'clock.

Simulcast of the awards ceremonies has been set for Wednesday March 21, (NBC-TV and radio, 10:30 p.m. to 12:15 a.m.)

Ballots will be mailed tomorrow to the 14,834 members of the movie industry who will select nominees for "Oscar" awards for acting, art direction cinematography, costume design, directing, film editing, music, "best motion picture" and writing.

Nominations will close Saturday, Feb. 4, and the announcement of the results will form a major part of the Feb. 18 telecast.

Dance Music

"Music from Meadowbrook" starring Ralph Flanagan and his orchestra with an invitation to "Let's Dance Again with Flanagan," will premiere over Channel 7 on Thursday night at 10 o'clock.

Originating from one of America's outstanding dance spots Frank Dailey's Meadowbrook at Cedar Grove, N. J., and presented by the United States Air Force, the program will feature Flanagan as master of ceremonies and his orchestra the Flatsburg Five a dance contest and an interview with an outstanding career airman and a "spot light" game.

Maybe it's because Hollywood directors swing a lot of weight, but the Screen Director's Playhouse lines up some potent casts for its telefilms. A new one, "Cry Justice," has MacDonald Carey, Dick Haymes, James Dunn and June Vincent in a Western story. Carey plays a man framed by his partner, Haymes . . . and the plot centers around his search for the double-crossing partner.

Lederer's, 1015 Broad St., announces it's here at last . . . the sensational new 1956 line of G-E TV sets . . . Magnificent styling from table models to consoles and lowboys. And G-E offers the most exciting and unique idea in TV design for many years. The revolutionary G-E clock and timer for TV. This deluxe clock console automatically turns on your TV set to your favorite programs and will turn it off at a pre-set time.

Dan O'Herlihy grabbed the starring role in the first hour-long TV film being produced by Sheldon Reynolds of "Foreign Intrigue" fame. ABC is backing the project with financing. O'Herlihy is now on the French Riviera for the shooting in the domain of Grace Kelly's Prince.

The latest sensation in automatic washing is the new G-E Filter-Flo washer. Here's the modern way to launder your clothes. With its big 12 pound capacity it tackles your week's wash with ease and cleans them lint-free and snow-white. If it's a portable washer you want, casters can be added so you can move it around your kitchen. The price? Only $274.95 with trade. See us tomorrow.

Edgar Bergen's wife Frances is carving quite a career for herself. Besides her new recordings, she's set for a second Jack Benny show, and Dick Powell has her signed as his leading lady in his next Four Star Playhouse film, "High Stakes."

Bob Cummings, who plays a photographer in his series, was named the Best Dressed Star by Hollywood's Independent Photographers Association.
