ystery Hinges
roken Statues

Play All-Russian Program
Al Jolson, Bill Stern
Swap Yarns

Broken Statues takes Ellery Queen verlooking the East River for a bafs on Saturday via WEAF, 7:30 p. m.

Major" by Alexander Borodin, and, from the music of present day Russia, the "Quartet, Opus 49" by Dmitri Shostakovich.

Al Jolson, who made songs about mamy famous, will be guest of Bill Stern on "Sports Newsreel" Saturday (WEAF, 10 p. m.) Al and Bill, old friends, will swap stories about their favorite sports and great sporting contests they have seen.

Saint-Saens is the composer who gets the major share of attention on Dr. Frank Black's "Musical Matinee" over WEAF Saturday at 2 p. m. His "Suite Algerienne" will be played by the symphony orchestra under Dr. Black's baton.

Anne Elstner who plays the title role in "Stella Dallas," daytime serial, will tell all to Nellie Revell in an interview on Saturday (WEAF, 10:30 a. m.) Before originating the radio role of Stella Dallas nearly five years ago, Anne was starred as Cracker in "Moonshine and Honeysuckle" and in the title role of "Miss Lilla."

Beverly Mahr will feature the new blues song about war workers, "On Time," on her program Saturday (WEAF, 5:30 p. m.) She also will sing "Weep No More My Lady" in a special arrangement by Red Bone. Red is a musical arranger by day and works in a war plant at night.

Three United States Marines, all wounded in action in the conquest of the Solomons, compete for War Bond prizes against a trio of Arthur Murray dancing instructors, on the Frank Crumit-Julia Sanderson quiz Saturday at 8 p. m. over WABC.

The ever delightful melodies of Gilbert and Sullivan will be played and sung on Saturday, from 8:15 to 9:15 p. m., WJZ to replace the Boston Symphony orchestra, which ordinarily broadcasts during that time. On tour that day, the orchestra will be heard again on the following Saturday night.

Answering the many requests to repeat the dramatization of the life of Thomas Edison, the Little Blue Playhouse will honor the great inventor, who was born 95 years ago on Feb. 11, by presenting the play on Saturday at 11:30 a. m. over WJZ. It is called "Young Tom Edison."

DO PICK FLOWERS