

The Post Radio Highlights

11:15 a. m., WOL—From the garden of the Red Cross Building comes the birthday celebration of Jane Delano, founder of the American Red Cross Nurses Training Corps.

3 p. m., WJSV—One of the more surprising radio success stories is told when Mary Margaret McBride examines the Court of Missing Heirs as a feature of her regular Wednesday afternoon series on air programs.

7, WRC—"Black Rust" is a term you may not recall but your parents will. It was the blight which swept the golden wheat fields of the '90s and threatened international disaster. Cavalcade of America dramatizes the adage that truth is stranger than fiction.

8, WMAL—Dr. Preston Bradley, churchman and author, is this week's observer of the Quiz Kids mental antics.

8:30, WOL—After being an aerial off-agin'-on-agin'-Finagin, locally at least, Boake Carter is promised for Mutual's Capital listeners. Positively, they say.

9, WRC—Hattie McDaniel, "Gone With the Wind's Mammy," made a good impression on Eddie Cantor last week when he interviewed her about the post of nursemaid to the Mysterious Little Joe. Charlie Chan joins the actress as comic's guests tonight.

9, WJSV—Elinor Glyn's "It" has nothing what ever to do with Fred Allen's "It." His "It" stands for Income Tax, which certainly he dramatizes to the nth deduction in preparation for the fifteenth.

10, WRC—Kay Kyser jumps a few days, too, it being his notion to move March seventeenth to the twelfth and hear the harpies harp.

11, WOL—New York's Golden Glove champs prepare for their coming meeting with the Windy City scrappers.
