A FELLOW never knows about television's lawmen. For example, last week we were keeping tabs on one Hugh O'Brian. On television he's Wyatt Earp, Marshal of Dodge City. O'Brian received loads of publicity for his visit Washingington. But while we wêre checking Laurent O'Brian for the other sudden moves, the other Marshal of Dodge City passed quietly through our town. He came as a tourist. seeking and finding anonym-

It was James Arness, who weekly portrays Matt Dillon. U. S. Marshal of Dodge City. I didn't find out about his tour of Washington until he telephoned from New York Arness came East for his L and M cigarette sponsors and participated in a show at Durham, N. C. James' wife had never been in this part of the country and he decided to rent a car and drive to New York. Mrs. Armess made one special request: She wanted to see Washington.

Particularly, she wanted to see the gardens at the home of Geforge Washington, Mount Vernon, Va.

Temembered: "That Mount Vernon. My wife went into ecstacy over that place." Arness' own favorite is the Lincoln Memorial, which he calls "one of the most impressive places in the world. You just stand in front of the statue and grow 20 feet tall." Why had Arness passed through our town so quietly? Answered Arness: "I didn't think you folks would pay much attention to just another tourist.'

He promised to come back in the near future. And I promised to take him on a
