David Amram is the composer and conductor of the music for a new stereophonic recording of Archibald MacLeish's Pulitzer Prize play, "J. B." The recording will be broadcast today at 2:15 p. m. on WGMS and WGMS-FM. Amram attended George Washington University, played with the National Symphony and composed music for plays at Howard University.

Today's Radio Highlights

- 12 noon—WWDC. Sunday Afternoon at WWDC: Fred Gale highlights the 30 top tunes of the week in the Washington area, then picks a hit for the coming week.
- 12:30 p. m.—WRC. The Eternal Light: "A Summer's Reading," adapted from a story by Bernard Malamud, is the story of a young man and the difficulties he has as he grapples with his conscience in fulfilling his responsibilities to his family, the community and himself.
- 2:05 p. m.—WGMS. Special: The premiere of Archibald MacLeish's Pulitzer Prize verse play, "J. B.," in a stereophonic recording is presented. The cast includes Christopher Plummer as Nickles; Raymond Massey as Mr. Zuss; and James Daly as J. B. Music for the play is composed and conducted by Washingtonian David Amram.
