Previews of TODAY'S TV

Today's top shows as previewed as screenings and rehearsals in New York City and Hollywood:

Matinee Theater, 2 p. m., channel 5 — "The Shining Hour." Good soap opera. The tribulations of a wealthy family when the older brother brings home his new wife, a high spirited vixen. Familiar idea, but handled with enough action and brittle dialog to keep the gals interested.

Zane Grey Theater, 7:30 p. m., channel 2 — "Death

Watch." Above average western, thanks to Lee J. Cobb's performance as a despotic army captain. After his outfit has been surrounded by Apaches in an old desert ruin, the men start bickering among themselves.

On Trial, 8 p. m., channel 5 — "The Law Is for Lovers." You should find this interesting. How the battle between a candy store owner and a banker, over the price of an "idiot's delight sundae," established a basic principle of American law. Well done, with Everett Sloane as the harassed candy man and Gene Lockhart his usual testy self as the hard hearted tycoon.

Person to Person, 9:30 p. m., channel 2 — Jerry Lewis, pinch hitting for Ed Murrow, visits charming Kay Thompson, songstress - turned - author. Mary Roberts Rinehart, whose specialty is murder yarns, will discuss her experiences as a World War I correspondent, and may even show off her silver plated bejeweled garbage can, the gift of a daughter-in-law.
