BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

The First Lady of the Land, a number of excellent symphonies and a variety of entertainment ranging from blues singers to dramatic readings are included in today's radio offerings.

Mrs. Herbert Hoover will be heard over the Columbia Broadcasting System, via KHJ at 1 p.m., during ceremonies dedicating the north porch of Washington Cathedral at the capital. She is to place the first stone in the north porch, which, when completed, will be one of the architectural gems of the cathedral fabric. An address by Mrs. Williams Adams Brown, president of the Society of Colonial Dames of the State of New York, immediately preceding Mrs. Hoover's part in the ceremonies, also will be broadcast. Appropriate music by the Washington Cathedral choir of men and boys, hymns and scriptural readings will complete the program.

On the symphonies list there is the Standard Symphony Hour (KFI at 7:30) under the baton of Dr. Hans Leschke, opening with Offenbach's "Orpheus in Hades" and closing with the "Sylvia Ballet" by Delibes. Another worth-while presentation for music lovers will be Raymond Paige's Symphony Orchestra (KHJ at 9:30) in the second of its new classic series of "Vignettes." This is always a delightful half-hour.

For the romantic maidens plunging into summer's romance, Perry Askani will sing "One Alone" and "The Desert Song" over KFI at 8:30 p.m. in the Demi-Tasse Revue.
