

RADIO WAR PLAY GETS RESPONSE

Public Idea Concerning Way to Peace Made Plain

Avalanche of Phone Calls Follows Presentation

Desire for "Sunshine" Via Broadcasts Voiced

Times Forum—1:30 p.m. Jennie Durkee, instrumentalist, and Dr. Frank McCoy, editor of "Diet and Health" in The Daily Times. World-wide news, 7 a.m. 12:30, 4, 5:20 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

We learned on The Times Forum period yesterday that, apparently, the consensus of public opinion is that the way to establish world peace is to stop talking war.

A play was presented by the El Monte Community Players called "Rada" from the pen of Frederick A. Stokes, which brought that thought to the fore with much forcefulness. It is a tragedy of the World War. An avalanche of telephone calls revealed the fact, later, that the public wants sunshine and optimism.

The writer regrets that space limitations preclude going into details of the play, but appreciates the expression of public desire.

After all that is what we need in radio—the voice of public desire.
