Breakfast Club Plans Cure for Doldrums

Columbia's "Nit Wits" Offer Evening Fare

The Times Forum, KHJ at 1:30 p.m. Dr. Frank McCoy, editor of Diet and Health in The Times.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

A few jumps behind the sun, KFVB at 8 this morning opens up on the air with the Los Angeles Breakfast Club Frolic, while the evening hours are replete with snakes, magicians, quartets, and, as usual, a few unexpected features that have been substituted for scheduled entertainment.

Listen to what KFVB tells us of their frolic this morning: "A change, a quickening of tempo, plenty of 'meat' for the serious minded; withal a conscious and concerted drive against the dog-day doldrums." Eddie Borden, Frankie Heath, Eddie Lambert, Julian Eitinge, Tut Mace and Milton Halpern; African adventure stories. So—up with the sun and see if they live up to it.

Columbia's "Nit Wits" (KHJ at 6:30) brings to your supper table thirty minutes of comedy that may prove an escape from some of the heavier programs at this hour. At 7:45 over the same station comes the second barrel of "Chandu, the Magician." KHJ predicts a tremendous audience for this feature as it runs along—mystery, thrills, chills and you'd best get in with the foundation of it.

You'll have to mix your Nit Wits with your snakes tonight: KFI at 6:30 discovers Grantland Rice, noted sports authority, cross-examining Dr. Raymond Lee Ditmars, curator of reptiles at the New York Zoological Park, about reptiles and why.

To placate those who dialed KHJ at 1:30 yesterday to hear Ted Husling 300 feet below the Atlantic in a diving bell, it seems the Federal authorities wouldn't permit it at the last moment, unsafe or something. So the government protects radio announcers after all.
