BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

A toastmaster "whose clever lines have brought laughs to thousands," "a musical program you will long remember," "a program most unusual as to instrumentation, refreshing in effect, pleasing in contrasts," "the late star of 'Rose Marie,' 'Blossom Time,' 'Lover's Lane,'" "a father and son duo that cannot be matched in America."

These are just a few lines from the copy of the Los Angeles Breakfast Club's publicity de luxe describing their frolic at 8 a.m. today over KFWB. After you've tumbled out of the wrong side of the bed, stumbled over the cat and found that the milk man forgot to leave the milk, dial KFWB. If it's half as good as they say it is you'll feel more optimistic.

For concerts in the evening, KNX tells us the Rosicrucian Ensemble at 7:30 returns to the air and that a radio publication made a survey revealing that this half-hour of light salon music led the field for that hour. There are no soloists.

KHJ at 8:30 p.m. finds Frederick Stark conducting an orchestra and ensemble in a half-hour titled "Music of the Masters."

And don't forget the national tennis finals starting at 10:30 a.m. over KHJ.
