What's in the main tent of radio today? We'll let the high lights do the barking for the side-show attractions and point out four main events that should command your attention.

First up with the sun comes the Los Angeles Breakfast Club Frolic (KFWB) at 8 a.m. We're told "a crisp September morning could hardly bring us a more interesting and well-balanced program." Dr. Edgar F. Magnin, recently returned from Europe, will talk to us on his "Impressions from Abroad." Rabbi Magnin as well as being the rabbi of Congregation B'nai Brith, occupies a prominent place in radio circles. For entertainment, Roy Mace, tenor; a marimba band and Marguerite Sinclair, dramatic soprano.

You can journey back to Boston with KHJ at 9:30 o'clock this morning to tune in on an address to be made by Arthur Brisbane, noted columnist. His subject is to be "Retail Distribution," and is to be made before the Retail Trade Board of the Boston Conference.

This afternoon, 4:30 over KFI enables you to sit in with three of the most prominent men in the electrical manufacturing industry, headed by Gerard Swope, president of General Electric Company. They will speak in the main ballroom of Hotel Commodore, New York City, giving their views on the current economic situation.

And for a last choice why not dial KHJ at 9:30 o'clock tonight. Half an hour of music and song dedicated to the Jewish high holidays, now being celebrated, will be given. The program will include many of the ancient Hebrew melodies in their authentic form. Frederick Stark and Edward Lynn have arranged the famous "Kol Nedri," and if it's music you want tonight, you'll not wish to overlook this half-hour.
