BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

If Santa Claus brought you a radio or you've kept your payments up on the old one—Saturday's feature will prompt plenty of exercise. As the sun passes high noon how would a real Negro quartet in a half-hour of song appeal to you? Then as we pass into the evening, plays, prize fighters and varieties that will puzzle you to choose.

Well, from the far-off Pine Woods School in Mississippi the Times Forum welcomes a quartet of colored singers, KHJ at 1:30. These boys are masters of their spirituals and popular melodies and if you relax you'll unquestionably enjoy their harmony. Every now and then synthetic southern singers cross the radio horizon but these plantation young men can bring the South to your heart. The quartet is composed of A. V. O'Neal, tenor; A. J. Brown, tenor; Ellis Willburn, baritone, and Thomas Pruitt, bass. There'll be patter, too, so tune in.

Packy McFarland of past pugilistic fame comes to KMTR at 5:30 so oldtime ringsters can compare notes with him. The old battle of the past and present champions, but interesting, perhaps.

So on into the night, Dion Boucicault's "Foul Play" oozes in aboard Columbia's "Show Boat," which is KHJ at 7:15, while Daley and Dugan, the famed coppers of KFVB, pound their beats at 9 tonight.

Which makes radio a panacea for that New Year's Eve headache.
