What's on radio today? Just an evenly balanced variety of programs with a University of Southern California special and a half-hour of early French music as, perhaps, worth noting.

Why not tramp on to school—KHJ at 11:30 this morning? Another session at the American School of the Air, a bit of early French music treated during music appreciation period. Numbers heard include "L'Autrier par la Matinee," a thirteenth-century selection by Thibaut of Champagne; "Le Coucou" by Dauquin, and "Amaryllis," a favorite air of Louis XIII.

KMTR at 9 tonight, devotes much space to a one-hour special titled, "Al Wesson's University of Southern California Hour." Ernie Pinckert, Jim Musick, Johnny Baker, Gaius Shaver and the balance of the wonder team. They promise Harold Roberts and his music. Just an hour of college whoopee, which, if it sounds half as good as it reads, will please many of you.
