BY WILLIAM HAMILTON CLINE

A trip to school to attend the first Hague conference; a conference with two national Congressmen and a song recital by Lawrence Tibbett. That spells radio today, while in the background lurks a host of programs calculated to intrigue you—rounding it all off with a riot of fun at the hands of the Blue Monday Jamboreadors.

You'll traipse to the American School of the Air today (KHJ at 11:30) to listen to a dramatization depicting the events of the first peace conference held in The Hague in Holland.

The second program of the National Radio Forum—releaced locally by KFI at 7 p.m., points to Senator Howell of Nebraska and Representative Beck of Pennsylvania. No well informed student of political affairs should fail to dial this special, which is being offered under the auspices of the Washington Star, with Oliver Owen Kuhn, managing editor of the Star, as master of ceremonies.

The Blue Monday Jamboreadors are going to essay none other than "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Harriet Beecher Stowe would turn over in her grave if she could but witness the radio Eliza skipping over the ether ice—with dog effects—Legree snarls—and oh, well—the Deep Dramatic Stock Company will mangle this classic.

I'd like to speculate on just how radio will transport little Eva to heaven—listen for an aerial block and tackle.

On The Times Forum today, at 1:30, you will be given a short forecast of the outdoor and sports events of the week, by Frank Roche, of The Times sports department. This weather makes outdoors affairs most attractive and Mr. Roche will tell you where they may be found. Also, Philip K. Scheuer of The Times drama department will review for you the theatrical and cinema events of the week, and forecast what is to come that will engage your attention in the next few days.
