BY WILLIAM HAMILTON CLINE

The radio menu for today is varied. It includes Ernest Lee Jahncke, assistant Secretary of the Navy; Henry L. Stephens, national commander of the American Legion; the United States Marine Band in Washington; Irvin S. Cobb; a basketball game, and to top it off, a prize fight.

The American School of the Air (KHJ at 11:30 a.m.) points to a half-hour visit with Assistant Secretary Jahncke. He will discuss the opportunities offered by the United States Navy to the boy with seagoing ambitions.

Thirty minutes with the United States Marine Band, stationed at the national capital, will be released over KHJ at noon. Half an hour of martial music and this famous band can certainly make the old welkin sit up and take notice.

Whipping the dial to KECA at 1 o'clock, the spirit of patriotism may be carried over to a conference with Legion Commander Stephens. Questions as to the major objectives of the veterans' organization are to be answered in a fifteen-minute address released from an eastern N.B.C. radio center.

Stepping from patriotism to fun, listeners will have opportunity to enjoy a laugh or two with Irvin S. Cobb over KFI at 6:30.

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:30 today, will present another of those interesting talks on politics by Kyle Palmer, political writer for The Times, and Dr. Philip M. Lovell's weekly talk, Dr. Lovell, is editor of Care of the Body in The Times Sunday Magazine.
