Building your future is like solving a puzzle and knowledge is a vital part of the picture. The puzzle is a hard one... how to "keep up" in the face of constant advancement in your field.

The solution lies in lifelong learning... University Extension classes, discussion groups, workshops, films, correspondence courses...

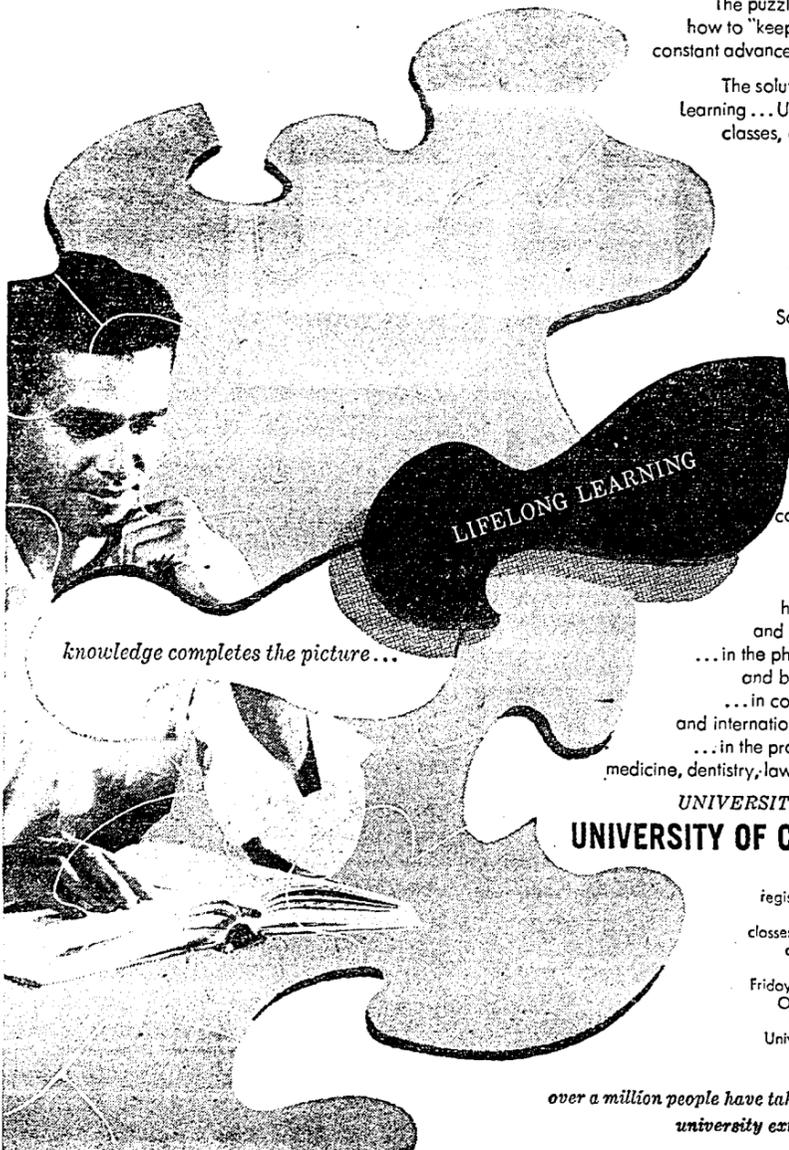

In downtown Los Angeles, on the UCLA campus and in 30 other Southern California communities... at a nominal cost of only $9 per unit in most cases.

Classes in the management and conduct of business... in music, drama and art... in languages, how to speak them and how to write them... in the physical, theoretical and biological sciences... in community, national and international understanding... in the professional study of medicine, dentistry, law and engineering.
