

Today's Radio Highlights

7 p. m., WMAL—Seven-year-old Patsy O'Shea, of Brooklyn, insists she's the only person in America who really understands the plays of William Saroyan. She played one of the Yearlings in the enchanting "Love's Old Sweet Song"; still she exaggerates a bit in her boast—we hope! She has a role in tonight's Strictly Business.

7, WRC—Lucille Manners chooses Coates' "Bird Songs at Eventide" for her evening's highlight with Dr. Frank Black's orchestra. Ross Graham, barytone, joins her in Jerome Kern's "I Am So Eager" and on his own sings Geehl's "For You Alone." Dr. Black demonstrates for the first time on the air a new electronic instrument, the solovox.

7:30, WJSV—Arthur Donovan, fight referee who has been the third man in the ring at most of the big championship bouts of the past decade, pits his knowledge of sports against that of Tuss McLaughry, veteran Brown University football coach on Choose Up Sides. Arthur Mann is Donovan's partner, Cas Adams McLaughry's.

7:30, WRC—From Ogdensburg, N. Y., seat of the greatest concentration of soldiery in this country's peace-time history, comes an Amateur Night, with the boys forgetting drill commands long enough to show other talents.

7:30, WOL—Cesare Sodero conducts Alfred Wallenstein's Sinfonietta during the latter's holiday.

8:30, WOL—Jean Muir, of the screen, plays "Lorna Doone" for Command Performance.

9, WJSV—From the auditorium of Elwood High School in Wendell Wilkie's Indiana comes a parade of old friends who knew the Republican nominee when: Abe Levi, the junk dealer who gave him his first job; the girl with whom he had his first date, and Homer Capehart, Elwood businessman, talk with Bob Trout and funster Walter O'Keefe.

9:30, WRC—Gerard Darrow, 8. Van Dyke Tiers, 13, and Cynthia Cline, 14, are still on Quiz Kids, having held onto their opening night jobs despite the heated contests waged by other visitors, who seek the join, the fivesome.

9:30, WMAL—Bing Crosby's new film, "Rhythm on the River" enjoys an exclusive press preview—you know, a nice intimate affair with a Nation-wide hook-up.

9:45, WOL—Richard Czerwonky conducts the Women's Symphony Orchestra of Chicago in the "Rhine Journey" from Wagner's "Siegfried."
