The Greatest Ball Game Ever Played on This Date

AND THE PROPERTY OF THE PARTY O This is another or a series or articles, which will be printed each day reviewing the greatest baseball game ever played on this date,

By BRACE E. JARRETT October 17, 1911, at New York Jack Coombs and Christy Mathewson battled 11 innings before the Athletics won the third game of the world series from the Giants, 3-2.

New York took an early lead in the third when Meyers and Mathew. son singled in succession and Barry fumbled Devote's drive, Meyers

Mathewson held Philadelphia in check until the nuith when Baker drove a home run into the right | field stand to tie the court. Connie Mack's Athletics tallied twice in the eleventh: Eddle Collins singled after Oldring had been put Benz did some beautiful punting for Wisconsin. The big boy ought out, and when Buck Herzog threw to get a nice hand on his kicking. wide to first on Baker's bounder, Collins went to third and Frank to punting against that Kinnick would second; on Fletcher's bobble of have ruined us. Benz played far Murphy's smash Collins scored and the best game of the year against Baker took third, the latter then registering at the plate on Davis' safe hit. Herzog started the Giants final bid with a double; Fletcher flied to Lord; Herzoog took third on Meyers' out, Collins to Davis, and scored when Collins fumbled Beals Becker's hopper; Becker then went out stealing, ending the game.

Jack Coombs gave McGraw's lads but three hits, and not one did he grant during the nine innings in which the Giants failed to score Mathewson also pitched an exceptional game, and but for Baker's circuit drive in the ninth he would have won in the regulation number of initings.

NOTE: On this date in 1910 'Chief" Bender won teh first game of the world series for the Athletics over the Cubs, yielding but three hits. The box score:
