Insurance commissioners of many states, distrustful of the "rebate" plan offered on automo-bile insurance policies by stock companies, are watching closely Wisconsin's course in the rate dispute.

The "rebate" plan provides a five per cent increase in premiums, accompanied with offer of a refund amounting to 15 per cent to motorists making no claims in a 13-month period. Opponents of the plan believe the refund is merely sugar coating for a bitter pill, that it will not actually total 15 per cent. Promoted as an incentive to safe driving, the scheme will not accomplish that aim, it is claimed.

Wisconsin's commissioner, Harry J. Mortensen, hostile to the plan, has received information that Ohio and Iowa will soon announce denial of the rate plan. Ohio, Mortenson was informed, hopes Wisconsin will follow its course as Mortensen pointed out that one auto driver might have an accident in the first few months and show a lack of negli-gence on his part, where another driver who had an accident in one of the later months would not have had time at the end of the thirteenth month to exlinguish his claim and establish lack of liability. The latter could obtain the refund while the former could. That would be a discrimin-

Discussions of "Social Service" and "Personnel" as possible careers for the college trained woman Friday closed the series of nine vocational guidance programs in the Memorial union, sponsored by the Women's Self Government assn. at the University of Wisconsin. Miss Charlotte Towle, school of social service, University of Chicago, and Mrs. Anne V. Zinser, director. Zinser Personnel service, Chicago, were the principal speakers.

Miss Towle en:phasized the need for workers who have combined training in medical and psychiatric case work.

"The great gap between the demand for social workers and the present supply of well trained workers is a threat to progress inthis field." she said.
