Helen Wills Moody to Try Comeback Without Dramatics

By DAVID J. WALSH (I. N. S. Sports Editor) NEW YORK, N. Y. - (INS) - Three years ago, Helen Wills Moody, easily the most dramatic figure in women's lawn tennis, suddenly decided to play a comeback in the Wimbledon championships and, probably unconsciously, produced an almost romantic episode with her "die hard" last set win over Helen Jacobs in the final round.

Today, I'm able to state for the first time that Mrs. Moody means, hopes and intends to repeat the performance, this time without the dramatics.

In other words, she plans to play in the Wimbledon all-comers singles of 1938, pass up the American singles at Forest Hills and, all told, have the time of her young life. The latter statement is to be taken literally.

Just for Fun "What of it?" she is reported to have said to friends in California when told that her lack of tournament "edges" would get her knocked off at Wimbledon.

That's hardly in keeping with the little lady of the impassive poker expression and the so called "killer" instinct we all loved to prate about a few years ago.

It doesn't even team up with her entirely appealing behavior when "down" to a match-point at 5-2 against Miss Jacobs in the final set, she produced an effort that won't miss, couldn't and can't with any American to whom courage is the supreme virtue.

In Other Words We, as a matter of fact, always made a point of Mrs. Moody's "coldness" on the courts and probably we'd still be at it today, not recognizing meantime that the lady has undergone quite a conspicuous change.

In the first place, she has stopped being emotionally restrained and proved it by tossing her racquet into the air with almost schoolgirl enthusiasm when she scored the final point against Miss Jacobs three years ago.

In other words, the lady is almost an idealistic amateur today. She even thinks like one.

200 YARD FREE STYLE: Thompson (W) first, Frenley (L) second, Noonan (L) third, time, 2:22.8. JOE YARD FREE STYLE: Siefert (W) and Emmerich (W) tied for first, Westberg (L) third, time, 1:12.
