By Fanny Brice. Myself and Radio

Fanny Brice

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of radio articles written for Central Press and The State Journal by leading personalities of the ether.

Thirty years of show business to make a hit as a four-year-old baby. I guess that's what you call the magic of radio. When I first asked me what I would like to do for a comedy spot on M. G. M.'s "Good News for 1938" program, I pondered for a long time. Here I was, in Hollywood, making motion pictures, catching up on sunshine and having fun—should I do some radio?

Why not do Baby Snooks? They won't even know it's Fanny Brice, and that will be end of me and radio—I could attend previews of Greta Garbo and Clark Gable and my other favorites' pictures on Thursday nights, instead.

Fan Fare
Raymond Paige and his orchestra and Louella Parsons, commentator, have been renewed on "Hollywood Hotel" over CBS thus silencing rumors that the series was going to be muted.

'Woman In Red Goes On Rampage

HOLLYWOOD — (INS) — Excited citizens swamped the Hollywood police complaint board Saturday to report "a wild woman in red pajamas," armed with a bamboo pole, proceeding along Sunset Boulevard, one of the movie capital's swank streets, crashing store windows.

Two officers responded, caught up with the woman and persuaded her to quit poking the pole through plate glass show fronts of various shops.

She gave the name of Frances Bogart Rose, but the officers said, when they tried to question her further, she declared she didn't care to talk and would rather dance—and urged the police to join her as she danced down the street.

Backtracking her trail, the officers discovered she had knocked in windows of two beauty shops, a drug store, a couple of other stores and two penny sales.

"I don't like penny sales," she said, "because they don't tell the truth, and I dislike beauty shops because they can't improve a nature."

She was dressed in flaming red slacks and a yellow blouse. She was removed to the psychopathic ward of the general hospital for observation.

She told police she was the sister of a well known film actor.

Participants in the April program will be Marian Davies, Billy Crase, Madge Power, Mary Margaret Schurr, Gerda Cuse, Eleanor Jones, Thomas Engels, and Harry Regan.

Slayer Dies After Leap

BUFFALO, N. Y. — (UP) — Peter Burton, 39-year old electrician who confessed the slayings of his divorced wife and her landlady in Detroit, died Saturday night of injuries received in a suicide attempt. He leaped out of a third story window at police headquarters Wednesday afternoon as he was being questioned in connection with the slayings of Mrs. Monica Janonis, 40, and her landlady, Mrs. Ursula Jakubowski.

Green County Dedicates Its Highway Job

MONROE — Green county's new $40,000 highway garage was dedicated here Saturday in a program including speeches by William Hoenig, maintenance engineer for the state highway commission, and county officials.

Hoenig praised the new building as "one that the county board and all Green county can be proud of." The garage was built by the county without federal assistance.

Other speakers were Mayor Charles R. Kohli, Herman Kohn, county highway commissioner, Postmaster John Burkhardt of Monroe, Dr. W. G. Bear, Monroe, Stanley Howe, Monroe architect who designed the building, and County Clerk Clarence Lengacher.

Mayor Hopefuls 'Run for Keeps' at Sauk City

SAUK CITY — John Schneider and Rolf Meyer are both mayoral candidates for keeps, it was reported today, after rumors had circulated that one of the men might withdraw.

They were chosen at the village caucus last Wednesday night which followed by a few hours the death of Mayor Richard Kuoni, who was not a candidate for reelection.

Foreigners Driven from Oil Offices

MEXICO CITY — (UP) — Mexican labor union officials invaded the office building of the Mexican Eagle Oil Co. Saturday and drove out British, Dutch, and American employees after Pres. Lazaro Cardenas issued an order expropriating all foreign-owned oil properties.

All banks in Mexico suspended foreign exchange operations and the nation faced the threat of a financial emergency, arising from the economic dislocations that are expected as a result of the expropriation decree.

The $400,000,000 foreign oil industry in Mexico was taken over by the government, lock, stock and barrel, with a promise to pay for the properties in 10 years. The decree climaxed a bitter feud between the government and foreign oil companies.

U. S. Cool on Situation

WASHINGTON — (UP) — State department officials Saturday night were reluctant to take any official position on the Mexican government expropriation of American oil interests pending receipt of complete official information.

Outward appearances indicated officials here regarded the situation very coolly. Unofficial expressions of opinion indicated that, from such information as has been received, they considered the Mexican action entirely within the framework of Mexican national law.

Whether diplomatic representations will be made in behalf of American oil companies will depend on subsequent developments and whether Mexico has overstepped legal or treaty limitations. Secretary Hull said that American oil representatives consulted the state department, but filed no data on which a diplomatic protest could be based and had requested no such protest.

Mayor Hopefuls 'Run for Keeps' at Sauk City

SAUK CITY — John Schneider and Rolf Meyer are both mayoral candidates for keeps, it was reported today, after rumors had circulated that one of the men might withdraw.

They were chosen at the village caucus last Wednesday night which followed by a few hours the death of Mayor Richard Kuoni, who was not a candidate for reelection.

Only incumbent left on the slate for trustees is John Accola. Other candidates for the three trustee jobs are Oscar Wilhelm, Albert Homuth, Ed Speth, Richard Drensen, and Theodore Luthert. Henry Grass and Raymond Luthert are supervisory candidates; Charles Blum and Wilfrid Cork, assessors; W. J. Derlath and George Page, constables.

Steals a Digger, Gets Prison Term

PORTAGE — Ferdinand Midthun, a Dane county youth, who was arrested June 9, 1937, was found guilty of the larceny of a potato digger taken from Frank Schroeder in the town of Dekorra by a jury in county court Friday. Judge A. F. Kellogg sentenced Midthun to serve from six months to one year at Green Bay.

Thieves Loot Portage Homes, Get $80

PORTAGE — Thieves who entered two homes in the fifth ward here Friday evening escaped with $80 in cash from one home and a diamond ring and ladies' wrist watch from the other. The E. J. Higgins home was entered between 7:30 and 8 o'clock and a diamond ring and watch taken. Entrance to the Carl A. Scherbert home was made through a kitchen window and $80 taken from Mr. Scherbert's pocketbook. The dresser drawers were ransacked but nothing else was taken.

Westport Justice Thinking of Quitting

For 42 years Michael Tierney has been justice of the peace for Westport township and Michael will be reelected April 5 for another term, for he has no opposition.

Michael is 69 and if he serves another year he believes he will be eligible for retirement. Michael's looking forward to retirement, so he says, but chances are he'll be a candidate again when caucus time in Westport rolls around.

Michael has probably the longest record of any justice of peace in Dane county. For 42 years he's taken care of the legal matters that come his way out of Westport.

Protest Seizure

DENVER — (INS) — A crowd of 50 or 60 persons Saturday staged a noisy demonstration in front of the German consulate here. Placards denouncing "the rape of Austria" and condemning nazism were carried by members of the gathering. Squads of police were hurriedly summoned and controlled the crowd before any violence occurred.
