15 Free After Dynamite Prison Break

PETPOS, Tenn.—(INS)—A $25 bounty on the head of each man today spurred the hunt for the felons still at large in the group of thirty-eight who blasted their way out of a coal mine shaft at the Brushy Mountay prison.

Twenty-three had been recaptured early today by the posses of townsfolk, prison guards and mountaineers led by bloodhounds in the untracked wilderness.

The small army of more than 100 volunteer deputies armed with squirrel rifles, shotguns and even ritchforks spread a 20-mile ring around the prison, however, in the event that the men had hidden in the vicinity.

Torture-Bandits Escape With$94,000JewelryHaul

WOODMERE, N. Y. - (INS) -A blue sedan and a New York Mary Pirkl, 80, night club address provided police with clues today to the identity of four bandits who bound and tor-tured Charles Milgrim, wealthy Manhattan couturier, in his home here and escaped with loot of $94,- Jewelry valued at $93,000, in-cluding a $50,000 diamond ring, and $1,700 in cash were taken in one of the largest recent house robberies in this exclusive Long Island section when the thugs invaded the Milgrim mansion with drawn revolvers.

Surprising John Waller, 32, colored houseman, as he prepared breakfast for the sleeping family, the men forced him to lead them to the master bedroom where they bound Milgrim and his fashion-designer wife, Sally.
"Where's the big ring?" one of them demanded after ransacking the place. When neither victim answered, Milgrim was floored by a blow to the jaw and then was tortured by a lighted cigarette held against a bare instep until he cried out: "Sally, for God's sake, tell them where the ring is!" It was this 18-carat diamond ring, found in a glove on Mrs. Milgrim's dressing table, whose gleam, police believe led the four handits to the Milgrin home.
