Madison Concert Orchestra Opens

Vilas Park Series This Afternoon

Madison Concert orchestra will be heard today at 3 p. m. under the direction of Siegfried Vollstedt.

The remaining concerts will be presented each Sunday through

The concerts are planned to meet the taste of the general pub-lic, according to William V. Arnold, state director of the federal music project. The Madison concept orchestra is a unit of the federal project, which is sponsored by the PWA and co-sponsored by the Madison board of education and

The orchestra will be augmented to 40 pieces during the park series through the cooperation of the city park commission. Extra benches will be placed before the park's bandstand to increase the Fourth 'Snap' Contest On,

The Fourth Wisconsin State Journal Amateur Snapshot contest is now underway. But there are only four more days to send that "snap" to the con-test editor. The deadline is noon Friday, so you better get busy with the camera.

The same rules that applied to the three preceding con-tests will be in effect. All snapshots entered must fall into one of the four following

Class A. - Children and babies. Class B. — Animals, sports, recreations, avocations, etc. Class C. - Scenes and still Class D.—Informal portraits of adults.

The State Journal's prizes for this contest are $2 for first in each class and $1 for second. Another $1 may be awarded for third place if the judges decide that the next snapshot in line deserves more than an honorable mention award. The winners will be announced in next Sunday's paper.

Winners of this contest will be entered in this paper's final contest to decide the city's en-trants in the $10,000 National Awards contest. To date there are 41 pictures eligble and there are still two contests to be accounted for. Judges for The Wisconsin State Journal's final contest will be announced shortly. The judges will be expert amateur photographers who have made this work their hobby.

WASHINGTON — A. Wisconsin man will handle the tough and ticklish problem of the refugees from Greater Germany. He is George Rublee, lawyer, who was born in Madison on July 7, 1868. He has been living in Washington and in Cornish, N. H. since he left Mexico in 1930, where he had been, for two years, legal advisor to Ambassador Dwight W Rublee is the son of the late Horace Rublec, who dur-ing the '50s and '60s edited The Wisconsin State Journal together with David Atwood. The elder Rublee and Atwood were partners in the enterprise. Later Rublec was editor of the Milwaukee Sentinel. Under President Grant he served as U.S. minister to Switzerland.

Since his graduation from Har-vard in 1895, George Rublee has devoted much of his life to public service. He spent one year teach-ing in Harvard, then set up a law ng in Harvard, then set up a law grounds and magnificent gardens oractice in Chicago, moved to grounds and magnificent gardens was a rendezvous for liberals New York City in 1898.
