Religion, Science, 'Hand in Hand,' Says Bahai'i Speaker

Religion and science go hand in hand and one can not progress without the other, Marguerite Reimer, Milwaukee, national travful park ever. It is the most beaucount of its location, on the lake eling representative of the Baha's shore, exactly like the one that I movement, asserted Monday night movement, asserted Monday night in a radio broadcast.

"Religion must be in accord with science and reason," she said. "Religion and science are the two wings upon which man's intelli-gence can soar into the heights. It is not possible to fly with one wing alone. "Should a man try to fly with the wings of religions alone he would quickly fall into the quagmires of superstition. On the other hand, with the wing of science alone he would fall into the despairing slough of materialism."

She declared that the Baha'i faith is based firmly on the conviction that a purely materialistic concept of society is untenable.
