

Radio News and Programs Observe Constitution Day Tonight and Saturday, Roosevelt to Broadcast

Alice Reinheart, above, plays "China" in "Life Can Be Beautiful" over the NBC-Red network daily except Saturday. A child planned to be on the stage before she entered radio. She was chosen for the role she now plays after the producers had auditioned 300 actresses.

A series of observances of the 150th anniversary of the ratification of the United States Constitution by New York State will be broadcast tonight and Saturday-ly by all three major networks. The chief speaker to be heard during the observance will be Pres. Roosevelt who will give the main address on the exact site of the courthouse, where, in 1788, the constitution was formally accepted. He will be heard from Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Saturday morning at 8:30 through stations WBBM, WYAG, WLS, WIBA, and WTMJ.
