Star Burlesques Fuehrer In James' New Story; Anna Sten Back

By Louella O. Parsons
HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 18.—(INS)—
Charlie Chaplin's long long planned comedy is much nearer completion than the outside world knows. He has been working with H. James, a well known Pebble Beach writer, and the picture should get into production not later than January. Charlie plays two characters—one a defenseless little Jew who is mistaken for a powerful dictator, while in the other role you will see him as the dictator himself. While naturally Hitler is not mentioned, it doesn't take any following or Shelpmen or Shelp is not mentioned, it doesn't take any Solomon or Sherlock Holmes to see it is the fuchrer, whom Chaplin is burlesquing.

This will be Charlie's first 100 percent talkie and while he speaks as a dictator, he will rely on his famous pantomine as the comic percentager with the mustache, derby hat and cane.

Back into the movie limelight comes Anna Sten, Sam Goldwyn's appendive glamour girl, after an beence of many months. Anna checks in the 24th of this month to the star in "Girl Without a Country," an original by Edwin Justis May-- Alam Marshall is her co-star and Paul Lukas has a featured is all the years Clark Gable has been emoting before a camera, he has never had anything that got ide goet so much as the dancing steps he has to do in "Idiot's De-light." For two days behind a barclark has rehearsed his hoofing numbers with a professional Carole Tombard of course, has been hav-ing the time of her life kidding him. Saturday she sent him a pair of bellet slippers, size 12, and a man-sized ballet skirt with "C. G." elaborately embroidered on it.

Chatter in Hollywood: Now that Nam Gray, who made such a hit in Three Smart Girls," and Writer Charles Martin have called off their engagement, it looks like Jockey Jackie Westrope has stolen the inside rail on Nan's heart. In class it has slipped your mind, young Westrope has been one of the see riders at Santa Anita all three seasons. frequently booting three seasons, frequently booting home his own nag. Cloud D'Or. In fact, Jackie's mother and father own a string of horses which he rides.

Just as we told you several months ago, Lawrence Olivier will some sail for Hollywood and, the Samuel Goldwyn studios. Olivier. Para Hobson and Hugh Sinclair leave their native England Oct. 26 to help Merle Oberon bring "With-ing Heights" to the screen.

A line or two: Bessie Love, the former Mrs. William Hawks, is back in town after three years in Lon-don. Bedsie, at one time a Griffith star and one of the most loved girls is nearlistown, is getting a royal reference from her many friends with Mickey Rooney, admittedly dynamite at the box office, joins the immedials tomorrow night when he puss his footprints in front of the Chisase theater . . Jack Oskie was taken off the set of Thanks for Everything" at 20th Century with The is through with the picture, he will go to New York to seek a reconciliation with his divorced wife.
