Members of the choir are:

Under the direction of Prof. E.
B. Gordon, of the University of Wisconsin music school, the 95voice choir of the First Congregational church will sing its annual program of Christmas music at the 10:45 a. m. service Sunday. Mrs. Homer Carter and an orchestra will accompany the choir.

The music will include "In Dulci Jubilo," by R. L. DePearsall, the original melody of which was found in a German book published in 1570. Records indicate it was one of the Roman Catholic melodies which Martin Luther retained in the Protestant service. The lyric is half in Latin and half in the upper German dialect.

Program Listed
The choir also will sing "He Shall Feed His Flock" and the "Hallelujah" chorus from Handel's orgeting "The Roman Lating Hallelujah" chorus from Hallelujah "The Roman Lating Hallelujah" chorus from Hallelujah "The Roman Latin

Asked to File Aged Claims

Executors

Administrators or executors of estates were requested today by S. S. Miller, manager of the Madison field office of the social security board for the counties of Columbia, Dane, Green, Iowa, Jefferson, Lafayette, Rock and Sauk, to ascertain whether the estate they represent is entitled to a single cash payment under the old-age insurance program of the social

"Many such claims are filed long after the estates have been closed." said Miller, "because some administrators and executors are unaware that benefits are due, and therefore neglect to file claims during the process of administra-tion. Difficulties in the payment of these claims often arise after the estate has been closed and reopening of administration may incur additional cost to the persons entitled to the benefit." Hills, treasurer.

The Social Security Act provides for single cash benefits to be paid after the death of a worker covered by the old-age insurance program. These benefits go to close relatives or the estate. The amount of the benefit eyuals 3½ per cent of all wages received since 1936 in employments covered by the law, except that only the first $3.000 in yearly earnings from any one em-ployer may be taken into account.

Similar single cash payments are also being paid to wage earners who are now reaching age 65, since such workers cannot quality for the monthly benefits which begin in 1942.

All inquiries regarding possible claims for either form of single cash benefit should be made, Miller said, to the nearest field office of the social security board. His office is located at 1 West Main st., Madison.
