First Nighter Program Will Offer Tensely Dramatic Murder Mystery; Ex-Circus Girl's Story Scheduled

Haley To Present Circus

For Benefit Of Daughter

Jack Haley's little daughter has been begging her daddy to take her to a circus, so the comedian will make a circuof his show Friday night at 7:39 p. m. on WABC. And guess what? Haley is going to be the clown!

In another sequence, staged on the lot of Haley's film studio, rubber-tongued Artie Auerbach of "could be" figue. and lovely Lucille Ball of the movies will trade jibes with their chief.

The musical program will feature Virginia Verrill singing "Hurry Home" and Ted Fio Rito, who can read music but not English, and his orchestra in "I Go For That" and other dance melodies of the day.

Addison Simmons' tensely dramatic murder mystery, "Dark Dilemma," will be staged in the First Nighter's Little Theatre Off Times Square, Friday, via WABC at 8 p. m. The original story centers around co-stars Barbara Luddy, as the girl accused of murdering her vindicative stopfather, and Les Tremayne, as the bum who abandons his freight train touring long enough to discover the murder and the murderer. A strong supporting role is played by Michael Romano as Stilette, Les' Italian hobo companion.

"Jennie-on-the-Green," the true story of a spirited ex-circus girl who always bet on the green and usually won, will be told by the Old Ranger in two weekly installments of the Death Valley Days program beginning Friday at 9:30 baritone, in "We Will Always Be
