Radio News and Programs

When a radio star takes a pencil in hand, he may use it as a baton, as Ted Fio-Rito (lower right) did on the Band Wagon, or as something on which to exercise one's bicuspids. Cary Grant (upper left), star of the Circle, and Lillian Perron (upper right), of Fred Waring's Two Bees and a Honey trio, and Clementine Terrell (just below), actress on Warden Lawes' Criminal Case Histories, seem to find the pencil as an aid to concentration. Phil Lord (lower left), NBC's Seth Parker, is just holding on to his pencil while he turns the page of his script. Easier than putting it down and forgetting where you put it, you know.

fact that he comes from a land to explain he jjust wanted to try NEW YORK — News dispatches which denies to boxers of other the Normandie for a change nations the right to take money He was also careful to ex-earned in Germany out of the country, should make him subject to the same treatment here, because it's a poor rule that doesn't work both ways.

Through as a Fighter claim Max grabs his dough and rushes home with it after every American money to bring back to here, there is also to be considered the fact that his last fight on five minutes' notice. Outward-ly he always appears to be in Foord in Germany a short time previously, proved rather convincingly that as an important figure in the heavyweight picture, Schmeling no longer exists. Noth- Louis fight, indicates that, like all bout with the champion whom he knocked out in their first meeting, Max said he was willing to fight any of the contenders. The fast that Premater Mike Jacobs Schmeling said he'd meet Nova

"with pleasure". Such a bout would test Nova, though a match with Max's stablemate, Tony Galento, which Nova has already declined, would serve the same even the most violent anti-Nazis purpose besides keeping the money în America.

There is no sense in holding another Baer-Schmeling fight, and no reason for a Schmeling-Galento match. Chucking Barlund or Farr at Schmeling might help build him up but for what? Another two-minute butchering at the hands of Lous? Even the most violent anti-Nazis wouldn't relish seeing that again.

One Conviction Enough As might be expected, Schmeling doesn't seem convinced yet that Louis is his master. last one to admit it when a fighter is through is the fighter himself. Max prefers to remember the first Louis bout, not the second, and you can't blame him for that. You can blame him, though for expecting Americans to pay $25 to see Joe Louis convince him about something on which he convinced them last June, at 25 boffoes per conviction.

Promoter Jacobs, desperate for a summer bout for Louis, doesn't need much encouraging to fall in boxer can't win fights. They can, line with Schmeling's plans. Be-cause Max is a ready-built con-not supposed to go places in the tender, he is preferable to Nova, heavier the novice, and Baer, who quit to lieve that Signor Bettina of Bea-Louis. Tony Galento, crude though con, N. Y., is the first portsider he is, takes precedence over Schmeling if for no other reason than that he is an unknown quantity and that Jacobs doesn't seem anxious to give him the shot.

Tony, for all his crudeness of ous punch, and any man who has the somewhat antiquated Negro a punch and heart to back it up is a threat to Louis' title. Schmeling, on the other hand, is as safe an opponent as John Henry Lewis, and for that reason would appeal to Promoter Jacobs who naturally enough doesn't want to have his gold mine blown up.

Max's arrival here on the Normandie, a French liner, instead of on the Bremen, the big German ship which pulled into port a few hours later, looked like a sop to the anti-Nazi fight trade, though pronouncements!) Max himself went to some pains

The sports writers of lammers' lane and the smart money boys agreed with the late Mr. Brisbane.

They made Fox a text brisbane. They made Fox a top-heavy fa-vorite over Southpaw Bettina. I imagine some of them wagered five and six to one, when they learned that the southpaw from Beacon was managed by a semipro magician, Jimmy Grippo. They could not conjecture a goofier combination than a lefty larruper who had a pilot from the land of legerdemain.

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—After what happened at Madison Square Garden Friday night, I pause to Said carving was done with a Arthur Brisbane's gorilla?"

I ask this because the one and only Tiger Jack Fox suffered a that: "it warn't no safety razor."

Rule Roost Today

Anyway Southpaw Bettina and Magician Grippo today rule the light heavy roost—as far as New York state is concerned. And they probably rule the rest of the 175pound world also, because John Henry Lewis can not make the 175-pound limit without appearing weaker than when he en-countered his adroit playmate, Jolting Joe Louis. I doubt if John Henry ever will attempt to pare down to 175 and defend the crown that still is recognized by the National Boxing assn. And if John Henry doesn't meet Signor Bettina, you send me postal cards with the name of the man Bettina can meet for the title before a house of more than $13.98. Maybe everything will work out alright. Bettina's manager is a magician. Maybe he can pull a good-gate lightheavy out of a hat. Maybe he can come up with that card. But I doubt it.
