

Fred Allen To Probe Brush Selling On Town Hall Hour

Girl To Be "Person You Didn't Expect To Meet;" Odd McIntyre's Successor Will Be Elman's Guest

Fred Allen will get his foot inside the door of another of America's leading occupations, door-to-door canvassing, when he interviews Miss Annabelle Albin, a Fuller Brush "man," as his "Person-You-Didn't-Expect-To-Meet" on "Town Hall Tonight" Wednesday at 9 p. m. over WEAf.

Miss Albin claims to be the first female brush vendor in the field, and as such takes her place in the Allen Hall of Fame of Women. Others of the fair, but sometimes strong-armed, sex whom Fred has interviewed include a lady fire chief, a lady blacksmith and a lady barber.

In chatting with Miss Albin, Fred expects to uncover much of the technique that is used to trap the unwary housewife. Allen himself became an expert at such specialized sales tactics when he was visiting theatre managers and casting directors during his younger days. Even today his right foot is narrower than his left because of these solicitations.

Charles B. Driscoll, who succeeded the late Odd McIntyre as the writer of the most widely-syndicated newspaper column in the world, "New York Day By Day," will head the list of guests on Dave Elman's "Hobby Lobby" Wednesday at 8:30 p. m. over WJZ.

Driscoll will lobby for his hobby of buried treasure. For more than twenty years he has collected data on, and searched for the loot buried by the pirates of old or lost at sea. A nationally-known authority on the subject, the columnist is the author of "Doubloon: The Story of Buried Treasure," "Treasure Abroad," and "Driscoll's Book of Pirates."

Other guests on the program, who will be interviewed on their spare time activities by Dave El-man will be Mrs. J. L. Spencer, of St. Louis, Mo., who collects children's nursery rhymes and Denny Healey, who builds musical instruments out of odds and ends.

That quarrel between Claudia and Nicky is still disrupting the normally calm life of "One Man's Family" and the chapter of the serial to be broadcast over WEAF at 8 p. m. Wednesday is entitled "The Further Discomforts of Nicky."

Last week Nicky took up his troubles with Paul, Claudia's older brother, and enlisted Paul on his side. The big scene this week is when the latter puts on the stern brother act with Claudia.

Claudia for her part ignores the commotion and delivers a threat.

"Dr. Jones," an original radio sketch written especially for the "Star Theatre" will tell the warm human story of the medical profession which it is dramatized by an all-star cast Wednesday, over WABC at 9:00 p. m. Frances Langford and Kenny Baker will star.

"At a Little Hot Dog Stand," Frances' solo will be "Could Be." Professor Quiz will be a guest on the program.

Tommy Dorsey and his orchestra will broadcast their program from the Fox theatre, Detroit, Wednesday, at 8:30 p. m. over WEAF. The Dorsey organization will be making a personal appearance in the Motor City during the week.

HIT WITH HITLER

Drama And Comedy Pictures Now Showing At The Sigma

"Disbarred" And "Peck's Bad Boy With The Circus" Are Offered; New "Topper" Hit Due For Ohio

A startling view into the private life of a woman-lawyer is given in the drama, "Disbarred," which is now showing at the Sigma theatre. With Gail Patrick playing the chief role, the picture spotlights the affairs of a modern Portia, with the accent on her relations with crooked criminal lawyers. Otto Kruger, Bob Preston and many others are in the supporting cast.

Also at the Sigma is "Peck's Bad Boy With the Circus," starring those two little stars of "Tom Sawyer," Ann Gillis and Tommy Kelly. Edgar Kennedy, Benita Hume, Spanky Mac Farland and Louise Beaver aid the mischief makers.

The hilarious screen comedy, "Topper Takes a Trip," sequel to "Topper" one of last year's biggest laugh hits, opens on the Ohio screen Wednesday. The new film is based on a screen play by Eddie Moran and Jack Jeane and stars Constance Bennett, Roland Young, Billie Burke, Alan Mowbray, Alexander D'Arcy, Verree Teasdale and many others.

Opening Wednesday at the State is one of the season's outstanding dramas, "The Citadel," starring Robert Donat and Rosalind Russell. The story is that of a young doctor struggling to relieve human suffering among the poorer class of miners despite their disbelief in him.

Also at the State is the story of three girls, Margaret Lindsay, Marie Wilson and Anne Sheridan, who find heart aches and happiness in the great city of New York. "Broadway Musketeers" is the title of the picture.

"Up the River," the prison comedy starring Preston Foster, Tony Martin and Slim Summerville and "Pardon Our Nerve" featuring June Gale and Lynn Bari, are the two features now at the Quilina.

Gail Patrick, cast in the chief role as the brilliant modern Portia, proves that beneath her startling Brunette beauty is acting ability of the first rank. Playing her difficult role with self-confidence and enthusiasm, she shares the spotlight with Otto Kruger, who turns in a suave performance as a criminal lawyer, and handsome Robert Preston as the young district attorney.

Tommy Kelly, the tousle-haired freckle-faced lad who won the coveted role of Tom Sawyer in last year's "Topper" and "Merrily We Live," returns to the screen in another mad and merry portrayal of the comedy production, "Topper Takes a Trip," scheduled for its initial showing Wednesday at the Ohio theatre. The cast of the scenes are laid in colorful West Point where Eddy is cast as a cadet.

"Secrets of a Nurse" co-starring Edmund Lowe and Helen Mack is the second Lyric feature.
