Low Brackets Hit "The burden of the cut will fall on those with low salaries," Card said, "because not enough could be saved by cutting the higher brackets." When university pay waivers went into effect in 1932 the lower salaried employees suffered most, he said, even though the top salaries took a greater waiver. Card also asserted the teachers union opposes increased student tuition fees, explaining the faculty does not want to benefit at the expense of the student.

Oppose Fee Increase Henry Rutz, Milwaukee, education director of the state federation of labor, opposed the cut on grounds it would affect the school for workers and might lead to fee increases.

Claude Lyons, Madison, of the Farmers' Equity union, declared his organization fears fees may be increased to the detriment of farm youths who desire a college education.

Farmers, Labor Defend U. W. Budget

Farmers and union labor joined forces at a special hearing Thursday, urging the legislature joint finance committee to recommend Pres. Clarence A. Dykstra's University of Wisconsin budget. Both groups opposed Gov. Heil's proposed budget cut of more than $1,000,000 as a threat to educational opportunities for farmers and workers.

William Card, Madison, of the American Federation of Teachers, told the committee the cut would mean salary reductions to lower paid university employees. He pointed out that only 13 per cent of the employees receive more than $3,000 a year salaries. He said 14 per cent get between $1,800 and $3,000 a year, 35 per cent receive between $900 and $1,800 and the remaining 38 per cent less than $900.

Fancy, Flowery Names Fading Percy, Reginald, Rollo—They've Gone, Thanks

What has become of Percival? and Reginald? and Rollo? These flowery names, so often detested by boys who get them from loving parents, slowly are becoming obsolete in this country. In Madison alone, among nearly 1,000 school children, not one Percival, Reginald, or Rollo was discovered. In other parts of the nation as well, these names are rapidly fading in popularity. In San Francisco it was found that only one boy in the entire city was named Rollo.

Although parents seem to have given up all hope of making these names stick, they have not abandoned the practice of giving odd names to their children. In the lists of names many first, or given, names not commonly found were discovered. Several of the more interesting of these among the boys are: Savetto, Leif, Lucien, Vito, Alfonso, Guilford, Luin and Sigmund.

But the girls seem to outshine the boys in that. Some of the more interesting of these are: Ninfa, Nathalie, Teresa, Bernadette, Philippina, Olymbia, Celoris, Carmella, Gwendolyn, Persis, Theon, Hermina, Dawn, LaVon, and Sharon.

Bill Jumps Gun, Loses Parole Plan

MILWAUKEE—(U.P.)—William Steinberg, 23, has a surprise in store for him. He and James Walsh, 19, Green Bay, escaped March 8 from the Green Bay state reformatory's other farm at Amberg, Wis., in a state-owned truck. During the night they abandoned it at Peshtigo and stole a black Ford sedan in which they were believed to be heading for Milwaukee.

Steinberg didn't know it, but he had been promised a parole within a few days. His escape automatically precludes parole and when he is captured he will go back to finish his term—and perhaps a little more for jumping the gun.
