POWELL, Wyo. —(U.P.)— Silent mountain people filed by the hundreds Saturday past a bier in the Powell undertaker's parlor to gaze at the body of Earl "Tarzan" Durand, the west's worst gun killer since Billy the Kid.

They came from miles around in the Wyoming ranch country where the 26-year-old raw mean eater Friday ended a nine-day of terror with a suicidal bullet after killing four peace of-

City Treas. Clyde Ellidge said about 5,000 persons passed the

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Durandwho declared they were glad their killer son was dead—had promised the undertaker to pay costs of the youth's funeral.

"The county was getting ready to put him in a pauper's grave" Ellidge said.

"It's kind of a holiday here. Hunderds of people are milling in the streets and everyone is happy. People are laughing for the time in a week. And I haven't seen a man with a gun all day."

Funeral services were held at Cody Saturday for Orville Linabary, one of two possemen shot down by the convicted poacher.

Arthur Argento, the second posseman, will be buried today. Funeral arrangements for John Gawthrop, 20, bank clerk, were postponed until the arrival of his fiancee from Denver. No plans had been made for burying Durand.

Rainmaker Tries to End Farm Council Drought

LAKELAND, Fla.--(U.P.)-On the banks of Lake Reedy Saturday night sat a 61-year-old woman gazing at the sky — using her "powers" with the hope of breakin~ a drought.

Miss Lillie Stoate, self-styled Mississippi rainmaker, maintained she had the power to discern clouds and bring precipitation. Citrus growers hope she is right, for they sent her $25 expenses to come here from Oxford, Miss., with the hope she would attract rain and break the dry spell that is killing orange and grapefruit "All I have to do is to stay for eight or 10 hours on the bank of a body of water and it will cloud up and rain within 24 hours or close thereabout," Miss Stoate ar-"The larger the body of water and the longer I stay near it the more it will rain. It is not a continued downpour, but generous showers keep falling within a radius of 150 to 200 miles." John Macxy, chairman of the Florida cit us commission, and a group of growers escorted Miss Stoate to the lake. She directed where her chair should be placed then sat and gazed at the clear sky.

"There it is, there it is," she exclaimed once. "The clouds are gathering and we shall have rain."

ROY C. HEGGESTAD

Atty. Roy C. Heggestad, who has been practicing law on the east side for the past 10 years, today announced his candidacy for the supervisor post of the 15th ward.

Two New Groups Join

The Wisconsin Council of Agriculture, through its executive secretary, M. K. Swanton, announced that two new members, the state Holstein-Friesian assn. and the Fox River Valley Milk Producers' assn., had been admitted to membership in the council at a board of directors' meeting Saturday.

Harvey Nelson, Union Grove, was named council representative nessmen how they should run their for the Holstein group and Amos Page, Appleton, for the Fox valley producers.

The directors also considered a plan introduced by I. O. Hembrey, Barron, which would include butterfat in the Agricultural Adjustment Act basic commodity list. Swanton said the plan is an effort to give the Wisconsin dairy farmer a share of the benefit payments.

Swanton said a meeting of the dairy farmers will be held here April 3 in cooperation with the state agricultural conservation committee and the University of Wisconsin college of agriculture.

Meet Here in Fail He announced the council's 1939 convention will be held in Madison Nov. 2, 3, and 4.

The directors also discussed progress of council-supported legislation, which includes measures for inscribing "Dairyland" on the state auto license plates in 1940, Bang's disease control; bonding and licensing of dairy products dealers, appropriation for establishment of a seed house at the University of Wisconsin to safeguard hybrid seed corn, adequate guard hybrid seed corn, adequate for a short time. Prof. Max Carl Otto, dynamic, white-haired chairman of the University of Wisconsin of philosophy department, doesn't believe any Moses is going to lead the United States out of a wilderness of unemployment, strife between labor camps, and wonder as to "what this all is coming to."

"No one man can give us a blue print, a complete plan to tell us what to do," Prof Otto said in an interview. "The president can't interview. "The president can't do it. The governor can't do it. No person can do it. It is too big a job for any one man.

"But America today is in a posi-tion that it probably never has been in before. The society we know now is going to change. We can't just repair it, fix it up, put it back into the shape it was 10 years ago. No. We must play a new game. And we are going to play a new game.

"But we don't know what name the game will have. We can't call it any name, and if we did start using names for the new society we'd only make people angry."

Prof. Otto shoved some papers across his desk in his Bascom hall office, thought for a minute, and explained calling a thing "capi-talism" "communism", or any other 'ism, is impossible with the new "game" this country—and perhaps the world—will play "Things can't keep on as they are now, we know. And they can't go back either. We can't say to Wagner act amendments threaten-the unemployed older men that ed Saturday night to wreck Presiwe'll give them back their old dent Roosevelt's attempt to rejobs. our troubles. That is too much to ask. It's impossible." President Wilson thought he could give the world a plan for peace and cooperation after the World war, Prof. Otto said, but the result was that Wilson was "taken in" as much as would be a non-business man who walked into a corporation office to tell the busidetailed, complete plan to solve

"Dictators can't boss a nation amendments at the present session forever, either," continued the Hitler and Mussolini will not last nor will their system of rule stand forever, Prof. Otto maintained. They may last a lifetime. They may collapse soon.

"And when they do start going

What, then, is the solution for America? The philosophy in which Prof. Otto believes holds that little by little Americans in all occupations, in all endeavors must learn to cooperate. "The truth science reveals, the economic drive business teaches, and the spirit of the church must act together. They surely are not acting together now.' A successful America can't be a game of "stars" who play only for their own glory, he said. The team, he continued, must receive the best efforts of each player, not for the player's sake alone, but for the sake of the team, and thus for the players also.

Band 'Brains' Captured Easily

ELLAVILLE, Ga. - (U.P.) - Ray Bruce, described by police as the "brains" of a machine-gunning band of mail robbers, was captured without a fight Saturday near this small Georgia town. Bruce walked unarmed from a vacant farmhouse after a posse of postal - spectors and state troopers surrounded the ramshackle dwelling. Capture of Bruce ended a lengthy search by federal and state authorities who wanted him in connection with a $24,000 robbery and slaying of a postal messenger at Lockport, Ill., and a $25.-000 mail robbery and killing of a police officer who was guarding the mail shipment at Guthrie, Ky.

AFL-CIO Peace Hopes Threatened

WASHINGTON - (U.P.) - New demands of the American Federation of Labor and National Association of Manufacturers for immediate congressional action on AFL Pres. William Green charg-Labor Relations Board are "working out the destruction of the AFL." He appealed to dissident AFL unions to support their officers in seeking major changes in the act.

The National Association of Manufacturers simultaneo u s l y called for action on amendments which would curb certain powers now exercised by organized labor. The NAM said "the demand for to correct the obviously one-sided ofessor.

"A boss may, for a while, play Wagner labor relations act has now reached the proportions of a no fair minded person can any longer ignore."

CIO peace committee member, Philip Murray, declared, however, "that hearings at this time would definitely hamper whatever chances there are to work out a solution to the CIO-AFL controversy."

The CIO, which opposes both the AFL and NAM proposed amendments, was understood to feel that "It cannot cooperate in seeking peace with the AFL with one hand, and fight against amendments they propose to the Wagner act with the other."

The AFL executive council retorted it believed immediate hearings in congress would "tend largely to clarify the present situation and aid rather than injure current negotiations for an adjustment of existing differences."

"Further delay cannot be attributed to impartial desire for the adjustment of a serious situation for it could only contribute to the advantage of one party to the controversy," the AFL said.

Previous optimism for labor peace dimmed as Green hurled. the new charges of a conspiracy destroy his organization. He accused the CIO of "misrepresentation and false propaganda" in opposing Wagner act changes offered by the AFL.

Strike May Delay World Fair Opening

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—A plumbers strike tied up final construction work on 150 buildings at the world's fair grounds Saturday and contractors feared they would not be ready for the opening of the fair April 30. The strikers made no complaint against wages or working conditions at the fair grounds, but charged that contractors failed to pay them $2 an hour for a six-hour day on other jobs
